Police Threaten Walkout

Circleville Council Grants Holidays, Overtime Ordinances To Employees

Circleville Police have threatened to stage a walkout Thursday as a result of City Council's failure to enact a 40-hour work week ordinance Tuesday.

City police have made a series of requests of council for more pay, fringe benefits and a shorter work week.

During last night's session, council passed an ordinance which would give all city employees, including police, time and a half pay for all overtime. The council also passed an ordinance giving all city employees six holidays.

The overtime pay increment for police does not start until they have put in a 48-hour week. Police had prepared a 40-hour work week ordinance, but council didn't act on it because they felt it was not worded properly.

They indicated to police however, that they would have a 40-hour ordinance prepared by the next session.

Patrolman Jack Mills, serving as spokesman for the department, expressed the dissatisfaction of the law officers with council's handling of the ordinance, and stated that "There may not be any police force by the end of the week."

The overtime pay and holiday ordinances apply to all city workers. Overtime for members of the fire department begins after 56 hours. Maintenance personnel in the water department will receive overtime pay after 40 hours while the water plant operators will receive time and a half after 44 hours.

The sewer plant operators will receive time and a half after 42 hours. All other personnel in the service department and the sewer department will receive time and a half after 40 hours.

The holidays alone will cost the city about $120 per man, according to Councilman David Goldschmidt. When coupled with the increase from a 10 per cent increment for overtime pay to a 50 per cent increment, it means a sizeable annual increase for city workers, Goldschmidt said. He is chairman of council's finance committee.

The pay and holiday ordinances were only a portion of the legislation enacted by councilmen.

A RESOLUTION authorizing Mayor Richard Gerhardt to obtain membership in the Central Ohio Law Enforcement

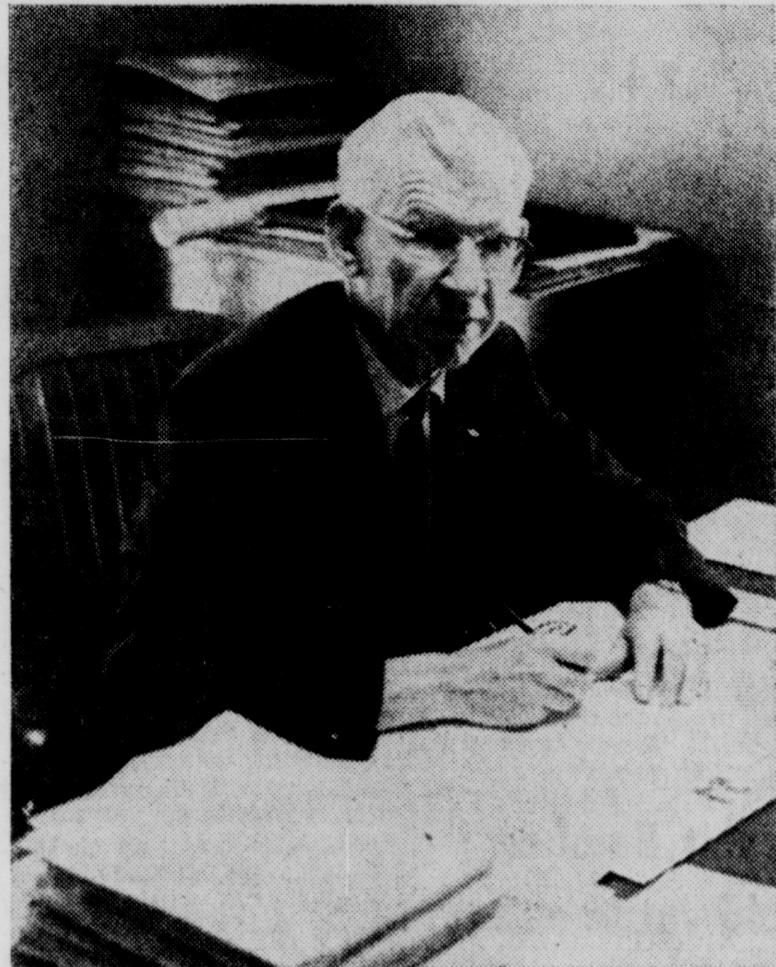

Council was approved at its third reading with only two dissenting votes. Casting the nay votes on the resolution were councilmen Noble Barr and Boyd Horn.

A fire prevention code was okayed after a first reading. The code will be enforced by the Fire Department or the city building inspector and calls for a fine of $25 to $500 and a sentence of not more than six months in jail for violators.

Another piece of legislation regulating the type of building material for exterior walls and for roofing in the downtown area was approved. The ordinance specified that outer walls be constructed of a fireproof material and that the roofing material meet

Public Utilities Head Announces Retirement Plans

ERVIN F. LEIST

Ervin F. Leist, manager of Circleville public utilities, announced his retirement effective July 22 at City Council meeting Tuesday.

Leist, who has completed over 30 years of combined public and military service, cited concern over his health as his primary reason for resignation.

The public utilities manager has seen the growth of the water department match the growth of the city.

When Circleville purchased the water works from the Ohio Water Service Co. in 1946, there were 19.6 miles of water mains. Today there are 37.6 miles of mains.

THE number of customers has nearly doubled during the 23 years of city ownership.

Some of the progressive steps made by the water department during Leist's years at its helm include a new office building on W. Franklin St., a new iron removal plant, new wells, new elevated storage, a modern storage yard complete with garage and meter testing shop.

The water department has been about the only one in city government that has not experienced financial difficulty.

The original cost for purchase and immediate improvements to the plant was $500,000. That original debt has been reduced to $205,000.

In 1962-63, a new water plant was constructed on the Island Road at a cost of $75,000. That debt has been reduced to $450,000. The two bonded in-

Student Surpasses 'Perfect' Grading

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — A Brown University student "broke the bank" academically, so to speak, by compiling a four-year average higher than the 4.0 usually considered perfect.

Donald E. Krecker, 21, Norristown, Pa., achieved the feat via a record of one A-minus, eight A's and 23 A-plus for his 32 courses. According to the formula used by Brown and most colleges, this gave him a 4.156 average.

Nixon Blasts 'Isolationists' In America

President Calls For Resurgence Of U.S. Idealism

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — President Nixon told graduates of the Air Force Academy today that the nation needs "a resurgence of American idealism" to counter new isolationists who have declared "open season on the Armed Forces."

In an address prepared for the academy's commencement exercises, Nixon told the young men entering military service that "potential adversaries abroad were never stronger and your critics at home were never more numerous."

The President said the critics are for a return to isolationism and that their appeal, with such slogans as "Let's first solve our own problems and then we can deal with the problems of the world," should never be underestimated.

He said they offer a simple formula, that "touches a responsive chord with many an overburdened taxpayer." But he said that adoption of their views would be disastrous for

'Tough Kid' Leo Gorcey Dead At 52

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — From the day he began acting as one of the original "Dead End Kids" Leo Gorcey was typecast.

It was 1935 and he was 18 when the stage play opened. It was about a gang of tough New York slum kids on a street deadening at the East River. Leo was the leader, "Spit."

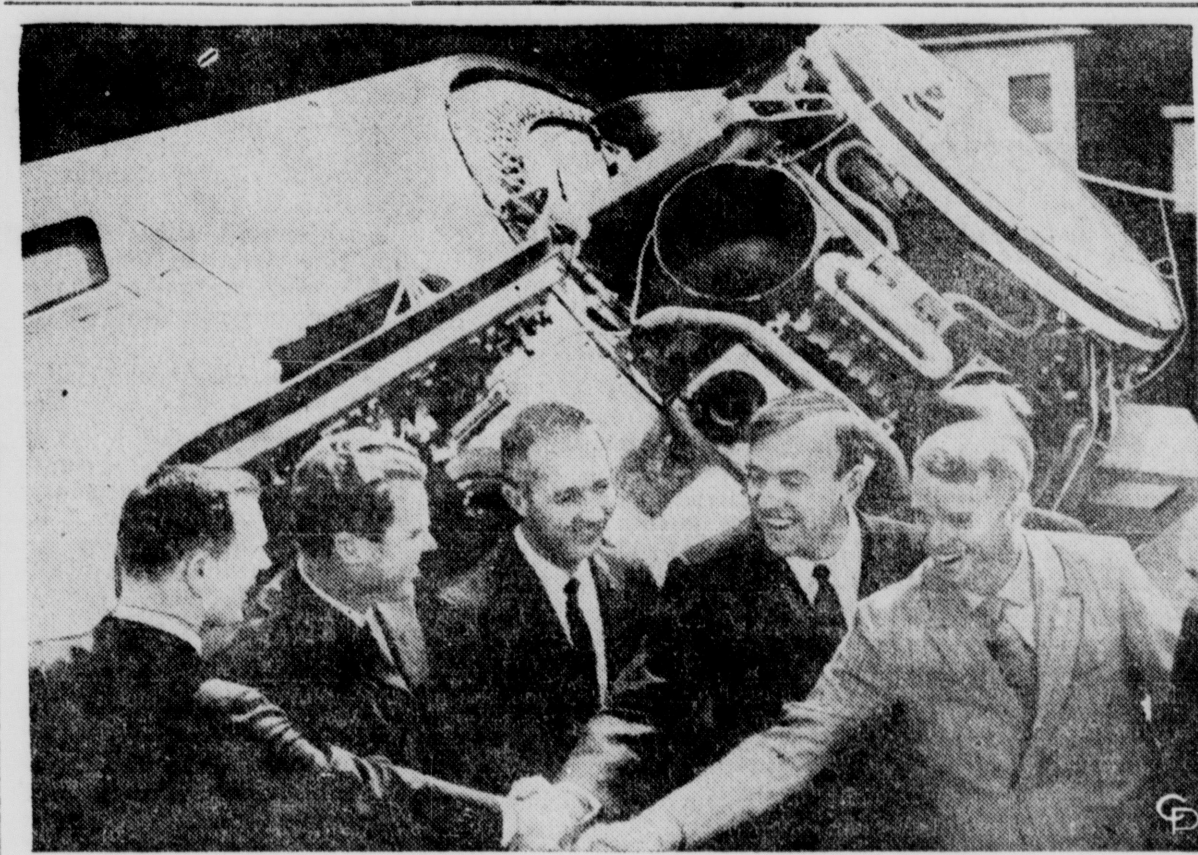

Until his death at 52 Monday in an Oakland hospital after a long illness he continued to play a tough-talking wise guy.

Samuel Goldwyn put the Kids in the movies in 1937 in a film starring Humphrey Bogart. Warner Brothers next signed them for gangster films starring Bogart and Edward G. Robinson. In their "Angels With Dirty Faces" the stars were James Cagney and Pat O'Brien.

In the "Beverly Hills Cop" series made later by Monogram Studio the kids include Gorcey, Billy Halop, Bobby Jordan and Huntz Hall.

Gorcey is survived by his fifth wife, the former Mary E. Gannon, 26, whom he married last year, and his son, Army Pfc. Leo B. Gorcey Jr.

Claim 945 Viet Reds Slain, But South Viet Losses High

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese troops and heavy American air and artillery strikes have killed 945 North Vietnamese in three weeks of fighting around Dak To, in the Central Highlands, military spokesmen reported today.

The South Vietnamese and their American advisers also suffered heavy losses. More than 700 casualties were reported, including 157 government troops and 13 Americans killed, 455 South Vietnamese and 32 Americans wounded; 71 government soldiers and two Americans missing.

The operation, named People's Rights, is providing a test of U.S. plans to turn over more and more of the war to South Vietnamese forces so American forces can begin withdrawing from Vietnam.

"It is an entire ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) show with the exception of such American combat support as artillery, tactical air strikes, gunships and medical evacuation helicopters," one U.S. spokesman said.

Other spokesmen said that American support had accounted for roughly half of the North Vietnamese killed. Hundreds of U.S. B-52 bombers and smaller fighter-bombers have pounded the enemy with more than 10,000 tons of bombs. Thirty B-52s flew five more missions over the area Tuesday night and early today, dropping 900 tons of bombs.

Hanoi claimed more than 3,000 government soldiers had been killed or wounded, wiping out one South Vietnamese battalion and crippling or decimating six others.

"The new victory of the liberation forces has further proved that for all the efforts of the U.S. to help the puppet army get back on its feet, the latter is irrevocably doomed to complete disintegration," said the Hanoi newspaper Quan Doi Nhan Dan. It also claimed that U.S. commanders ordered the Saigon government to throw a major force into the Dak To area "after all three brigades of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division, the trump card of the United States on the Central Vietnam high plateau, had been beaten hollow."

The Dak To area was the scene of one of the war's epic battles, for hill 875, in November 1967. American paratroopers captured the hill after two weeks of hard fighting in which 287 Americans were killed, 1,000 were wounded and 1,600 North Vietnamese dead were claimed by the Americans.

House Solons Urge Passage Of Sunday Liquor Sale Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The House State Government Committee has recommended for passage a bill to permit the sale of liquor on Sunday.

The vote on the bill Tuesday night was 11-7 with one abstention. It needed 11 votes to get out of committee.

It now has to make it out of the House Rules Committee before it is scheduled for a floor vote. Last session a similar bill was defeated on the House floor.

Before the vote, the committee heard testimony from both proponents and opponents. The hearing room was packed.

Columbus Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner opposed the bill, contending it is "not good morally, socially, financially or spiritually."

Sensenbrenner said Sunday liquor sales would destroy the family because it is one day a week that its members can be together.

A contingent of proponents from Cincinnati, including Mayor Eugene Ruehlmann and City Manager Richard Krabach, contended the city was losing convention trade because of the ban on Sunday liquor.

Robert A. Harpenau of Cincinnati, appointed by the Hamilton County Commissioners last week to head an 18-man committee composed of groups favoring Sunday liquor, said the city's present convention trade amounts to $10 million a year.

Harpenau said, however, with Sunday liquor it could have 40 per cent more trade that now goes to other states.

Krabach said the Cincinnati Reds and the Cincinnati Bengals attract thousands of spectators on Sundays, but after the game they cross over into Kentucky for dinner because illegal liquor is available.

Toledo Mayor William Ensinger testified that the question was not whether a person should be allowed to drink on Sunday.

"Whether or not liquor shall be sold on Sunday should be determined by members of the communities," Ensinger said.

LONDON, Ohio (AP) — Dr. W. T. Bacon, Madison County coroner, says he will rule "justifiable homicide" in the May 29 fatal shooting of John Joseph Beavers, 19, formerly of Columbus.

Beavers, an escaped jail inmate, was killed by a deputy sheriff last Thursday in a London alley. He had been held on burglary charges.

U.S. Officials Level Charges At Department

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal officials have charged that gamblers in Columbus, Ohio, have "had almost every member of the city's vice squad on their payroll."

Asst. Atty. Gen. Will R. Wilson in testimony Tuesday before the Senate subcommittee on criminal laws and procedures spoke only of a "major midwestern city" when he said that "low-level officers were reported receiving $250 per month and their superiors as much as $500" from local numbers operators.

But other federal officials later confirmed Wilson had been talking about Columbus. And the Nashville Tennessean quoted Wilson as identifying the midwestern city as the Ohio capital.

Wilson told the subcommittee, headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., that the Justice Department had "uncovered evidence that local numbers operators had almost every member of the city's vice squad on their payroll."

He also said "the involvement of the police went so far as to include pressure by the chief of the squad put on a dissident gambler to bring him in line with his fellow numbers operators."

Wilson appeared before the subcommittee on behalf of President Nixon's proposal to make it a federal crime to conspire to obstruct enforcement of local and state criminal laws in order to promote an illegal gambling business.

He said there is a need for such a statute on grounds of widespread police corruption in several major urban areas.

Specifically, he named a "major southern city"—the Nashville Tennessean.

Show Venus Not Habitable

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Academy of Sciences reported today that the three Soviet space capsules that sent back information from within the atmosphere of Venus gathered nearly identical data showing the planet to be unsuitable for man.

Venus 4, which entered the planet's atmosphere Oct. 18, 1967, and Venus 5 and 6, the two spacecraft that completed their experiment last month, found the planet enveloped in a cloud of carbon dioxide and nitrogen.

Venus 4 radioed that the atmosphere contained 90 to 95 per cent carbon dioxide and not more than 7 per cent nitrogen.

Venus 5-6 reported 93-97 per cent carbon dioxide and 2-5 per cent nitrogen.

Mrs. Harris pulled the spider from her foot and popped him into a glass jar. The insect traveled with her from Steubenville Hospital to Pittsburgh after she was bitten Saturday. The spider is now being studied at the hospital.

Seek Support For Pompidou

Gaullists Back Front-Runner

PARIS (AP) — France's Gaullist party today called for the nation to unite behind its presidential candidate, Georges Pompidou, after runnerup Alain Poher refused to quit the race.

The executive committee of the Gaullist Union of Democrats for the Republic (UDR) said: "The very strong lead Pompidou achieved in the first heat of the election gives him a mandate to unite all Frenchmen who believe in political efficacy, public liberties, social progress and national independence and peace."

Pompidou, De Gaulle's premier for six years, ran far ahead in the field of seven candidates in the first election round Sunday but failed to win a majority by more than 1 1/4 million votes.

Poher, who ran nearly 5 million votes behind Pompidou, had to get the Communist vote to have any chance of winning the runoff June 15. After the Communist party's central committee called for a boycott of the second round vote, some of his own supporters called for the provisional president to pull out. But Poher refused, saying that would pit Pompidou against Communist party leader Jacques Duclos 15 runoff and give the impression there was no meaningful political force in France between Gaullism and Communism.

Poher is backed by a loose alliance of his own Centrists and Socialists.

Poher, who won only 23.3 per cent of the vote to Pompidou's 44.5 per cent in the first round, indicated he had little hope of victory but was determined to put up a fight.

Reds Believe They Have War Advantage, Papers Show

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON (AP) — Piles of captured documents show the Communist high command in Vietnam is acknowledging grave battlefield reverses, but insisting its forces still occupy "the most advantageous position."

Plans have been drawn for a series of summer and fall campaigns which the Reds hope will drive that latter point home to the United States and to the world.

Extensive documentation indicates that the prime fear of Hanoi's war strategists is that a strong government may emerge in Saigon behind a shield of American guns, a shield that stays in place even though U.S. public opinion seeks a troop pullout.

Such a troop withdrawal is seen by the Communist command as being deliberately slowed, to enable the South Vietnamese to better handle their military future without American forces.

Instructions carried by courier to many parts of Vietnam in the past month make future strategy clear: "Destroy the belief of the United States in the illusion that the war can be de-Americanized successfully, and that they can attain a superior position in peace negotiations."

To bring this about the high command evidently has ordered a new summer offensive against Saigon incorporating the "new tactics" of striking with small, secret forces in the heart of the capital while larger units engage at the outskirts.

The objective is to collapse or discredit the central government "and force the United States to accept the inevitable, one way or another, either honorably or dishonorably," as one recent document from Liberation Army headquarters put it.

The Communist command sees a pressing urgency for a new military offensive for these reasons:

—The South Vietnamese army is being rapidly consolidated and rebuilt.

—A "much more sophisticated and consequently much more dangerous" pacification plan is bringing back under control areas lost long ago to enemy forces.

—B-52 bomber strikes are becoming more effective.

—The defenses of Saigon and its Chinese quarter, Cholon, are being expanded into the rural areas, making it much more difficult for attacking forces to function.

—Viet Cong base areas are under continuing attack.

—South Vietnamese political forces are being consolidated.

One high-level document commented: "While carrying out their over-all plan, the American and puppet forces have tried hard to create the utmost difficulties for us in carrying out our tactical plans. In some places we will engage in complicated and fierce encounters. In other places we cannot help having heavy casualties."

The Communist command sees the following claims as fact:

Police Threaten Walkout

Circleville Council Grants Holidays, Overtime Ordinances To Employees

Circleville Police have threatened to stage a walkout Thursday as a result of City Council's failure to enact a 40-hour work week ordinance Tuesday.

City police have made a series of requests of councilmen for more pay, fringe benefits and a shorter work week.

During last night's session, council passed an ordinance which would give all city employees, including police, time and a half pay for all overtime. The solons also passed an ordinance giving all city employees six holidays.

The overtime pay increment for police does not start until they have put in a 48-hour week. Police had prepared a 40-hour work week ordinance, but council didn't act on it because they felt it was not worded properly.

THEY indicated to police however, that they would have a 40-hour ordinance prepared by the next session.

Patrolman Jack Mills, serving as spokesman for the department, expressed the dissatisfaction of the law officers with council's handling of the ordinance, and stated that "There may not be any police force by the end of the week."

The overtime pay and holiday ordinances apply to all city workers. Overtime for members of the fire department begins after 56 hours. Maintenance personnel in the water department will receive overtime pay after 40 hours while the water plant operators will receive time and a half after 44 hours.

The sewer plant operators will receive time and a half after 42 hours. All other personnel in the service department and the sewer department will receive time and a half after 40 hours.

The holidays alone will cost the city about $120 per man, according to Councilman David Goldschmidt. When coupled with the increase from a 10 per cent increment for overtime pay to a 50 per cent increment, it means a sizeable annual increase for city workers, Goldschmidt said. He is chairman of council's finance committee.

Public Utilities Head Announces Retirement Plans

Ervin F. Leist, manager of Circleville public utilities, announced his retirement effective July 22 at City Council meeting Tuesday.

Leist, who has completed over 30 years of combined public and

The public utilities manager has seen the growth of the water department match the growth of the city.

When Circleville purchased the water works from the Ohio Water Service Co. in 1946, there were 19.6 miles of water mains. Today there are 37.76 miles of mains.

Wheel Well Stowaway Dies In Fall

MADRID (AP) — Two young Cubans stowed away above the wheels of a Spanish jetliner in Havana Tuesday night, but one apparently fell to his death a few minutes after the plane took off.

The other stowaway, 22-year-old Armando Socarras Ramirez, fell unconscious and half frozen from his hiding place behind the DC-8's left wheel after it landed in Madrid. He was reported in grave condition.

Socarras rode for seven and a half hours at 29,000 feet, with no wheel cover protecting him from a temperature outside estimated at 40 below zero.

After regaining consciousness, he told hospital officials that he had a companion who hid behind the plane's right wheel.

The pilot of the Iberia Airlines plane, Cmdr. Valentin Vara del Rey, said earlier he noticed nothing unusual about the flight. But later he told officials his right wheel didn't retract properly after he took off.

Varadel Rey said he notified the Havana tower of this, but he said a second attempt brought the wheel up without any trouble. Officials theorized that Socarras' companion fell out when the pilot lowered the wheel for the second retraction try.

Hospital officials did not immediately disclose the identity of the second stowaway.

"I was scrubbing the kitchen floor in my bare feet. I felt a pin stick me. That was all," said Ruth Harris, 39, of Toronto.

Mrs. Harris pulled the spider from her foot and popped him into a glass jar. The insect traveled with her from Steubenville Hospital to Pittsburgh after she was bitten Saturday. The spider is now being studied at the hospital.

Seek Support For Pompidou

Gaullists Back Front-Runner

PARIS (AP) — France's Gaullist party today called for the nation to unite behind its presidential candidate, Georges Pompidou, after runnerup Alain Poper refused to quit the race.

The executive committee of the Gaullist Union of Democrats for the Republic (UDR) said: "The very strong lead Pompidou achieved in the first heat of the election gives him a mandate to unite all Frenchmen who believe in political efficacy, public liberties, social progress and national independence and peace."

Pompidou, De Gaulle's premier for six years, ran far ahead in the field of seven candidates in the first election round Sunday but failed to win a majority by more than 1 1/4 million votes.

Poper, who ran nearly 5 million votes behind Pompidou, had to get the Communist vote to have any chance of winning the runoff June 15. After the Communist party's central committee called for a boycott of the second round vote, some of his own supporters called for the provisional president to pull out. But Poper refused, saying that would pit Pompidou against Communist party leader Jacques Duclos 15 runoff and give the impression there was no meaningful political force in France between Gaullism and Communism.

Poper is backed by a loose alliance of his own Centrists and Socialists.

Poper, who won only 23.3 per cent of the vote to Pompidou's 44.5 per cent in the first round, indicated he had little hope of victory but was determined to put up a fight.

Reds Believe They Have War Advantage, Papers Show

By PETER ARNETT Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Piles of captured documents show the Communist high command in Vietnam is acknowledging grave battlefield reverses, but insisting its forces still occupy "the most advantageous position."

Plans have been drawn for a series of summer and fall campaigns which the Reds hope will drive that latter point home to the United States and to the world.

Extensive documentation indicates that the prime fear of Hanoi's war strategists is that a strong government may emerge in Saigon behind a shield of American guns, a shield that stays in place even though U.S. public opinion seeks a troop pullout.

Such a troop withdrawal is seen by the Communist command as being deliberately slowed, to enable the South Vietnamese to better handle their military future without American forces.

Instructions carried by courier to many parts of Vietnam in the past month make future strategy clear: "Destroy the belief of the United States in the illusion that the war can be de-Americanized successfully, and that they can attain a superior position in peace negotiations."

To bring this about the high command evidently has ordered a new summer offensive against Saigon incorporating the "new tactics" of striking with small, secret forces in the heart of the capital while larger units engage at the outskirts.

The objective is to collapse or discredit the central government "and force the United States to accept the inevitable, one way or another, either honorably or dishonorably," as one recent document from Liberation Army headquarters put it.

The Communist command sees a pressing urgency for a new military offensive for these reasons: —The South Vietnamese army is being rapidly consolidated and rebuilt.

—A "much more sophisticated and consequently much more dangerous" pacification plan is bringing back under control areas lost long ago to enemy forces.

—B-52 bomber strikes are becoming more effective.

—The defenses of Saigon and its Chinese quarter, Cholon, are being expanded into the rural areas, making it much more difficult for attacking forces to function.

—Viet Cong base areas are under continuing attack.

forces are being consolidated.

One high-level document commented: "While carrying out their over-all plan, the American and puppet forces have tried hard to create the utmost difficulties for us in carrying out our tactical plans. In some places we will engage in complicated and fierce encounters. In other places we cannot help having heavy casualties."

OEO - Backed Foundation Said Involved In Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal poverty agency is investigating reports that staff members of a foundation granted nearly $1 million under President Nixon's black capitalism project were involved in violence at a North Carolina college last month.

Charles Collins, an inspector in the Office of Economic Opportunity, was sent to North Carolina earlier this week to check on complaints that employees of the Foundation for Community Development were linked to the May 21 gun battle at North Carolina A&T at Greensboro in which one student was killed.

The foundation was given $900,000, funded under OEO's Special Impact program, to develop black capitalism projects in Durham, N.C. It also received $60,000 from the Commerce Department's Economic Development Administration.

The Durham program is the Nixon administration's first big pilot project in minority business enterprise and represents the first of $10 million in OEO grants to be allocated before the end of the month to businesses

C Of C Pledges Support To Airport Plan

Board of Directors of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce Tuesday endorsed proposals of the Pickaway Airport Authority.

The directors also pledged their individual support to an upcoming soliciting program to secure funds for purchasing land for the proposed airport.

Frank Gans, chamber president, asked the directors for full cooperation in supporting the airport plans. He reiterated the Airport Authority's progress including the recently signed option on 50 acres of land south of Circleville in Pickaway Twp.

In other action during the abbreviated session, Bill Hall was appointed to the director's post vacated by Sam Foster, Du Pont manager, who was transferred to Wilmington, Dela.

It was also announced that the Chamber Office in the Masonic Building would be closed the week of June 22, while Mrs. Jean Ankrom attends a special school for chamber managers.

Guests at the luncheon meeting were City Councilman Keith Wagner and County Commissioners Dick Tootle, Wayne Hines and Charles Morris Jr.

Fluoridation Bill Sponsor Confident Of Senate's OK

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The sponsor of a bill to require state-wide fluoridation of water supplies says he is "confident we have the votes" to pass it.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Oakley C. Collins, R-18 Ironton, was up for a vote in the Senate today.

Collins reportedly can count on about 19 votes and two maybes. Seventeen votes are needed for passage.

The Senate also will vote on a House - passed bill to allow cities or counties to call in the State Highway Patrol in the event of a riot or civil disorder.

Sen. Marigene Valiquette, D-11 Toledo, said she and other Democrats probably would oppose it on the floor because it would allow the patrol to be called in on labor disputes.

In the House, a bill was adopted 92-0 to allow convicts serving a life term to be tried for felonies committed while in prison. The bill now goes to the Senate.

Under present law, lifers can be tried only for first - degree murder.

The bill's sponsor, Keith McNamara, R-64 Columbus, said he introduced the bill because the convicts serving life terms at the Ohio Penitentiary could not be brought to trial on charges stemming from last summer's riots at the prison.

Health Center Loan Approved

Robert Kenworthy, of Circleville-Pickaway Corporation, announced today that a loan for a proposed health care center near Circleville High School was approved Tuesday afternoon.

Saturday the local corporation completed the purchase of a 10 acre tract of land just south of the high school where the health center will be erected.

Kenworthy said it would probably be the latter part of July before construction is actually begun.

The local firm plans to start with a 60-bed unit. The dining room and kitchen will be large enough for the 240-bed unit that they hope to complete eventually.

The health care center will be a combination convalescent, rest and nursing home.

Car Theft Reported To Sheriff

Theft of a car was reported by Rosalie Meyers, Route 1, Ashville, to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Tuesday.

The complainant told sheriff's deputies that her blue 1965 model auto was stolen from in front of her home between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. June 2.

She stated that she went to work with friends and that when she returned home Monday afternoon the car was gone.

Mrs. Meyers said that the keys, which she always stored in her purse, were also gone, as was her ex-husband, who had been staying at the house for the previous few days.

$7 Theft Brings $100 Fine In Municipal Court

A local woman charged with stealing $7 was fined $100 plus costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Tuesday.

Tony Keese, Plainville Trailer Court, Lockbourne, entered a plea of guilty to stealing the money from Janice Koerner.

Judge Lamb suspended 875 of the fine and the jail sentence and placed Mrs. Keese on probation for three years.

funds "not be used to feed the fires of unrest which cross North Carolina today."

Holshouser's chief objection was to the alleged involvement of some foundation staff workers in various campus disorders, including North Carolina A&T.

Greensboro police also are investigating to determine if the staff members were involved at North Carolina A&T where one student was killed and eight policemen and National Guardsmen were wounded.

The House sent to the governor 71-22 a Senate-passed bill to increase from $800 to $2,000 the maximum amount that can be recovered from parents for property damages done by their minor children.

An attempt to amend the bill to make parents responsible for property damages in campus disorders threw some scares into legislators.

The amendment, offered by Rep. Carlton E. Davidson, R-26 Ironton, would have made it applicable to any student under 21 and would have permitted public institutions to sue parents for damages on college campuses.

Rep. Joseph P. Tuiley, R-37 Mentor, successfully argued against the amendment. He suggested it could be attached to pending campus disorder bills. The amendment finally was defeated 56-40.

Police there were being paid off by lottery operators and bookmakers, Wilson charged, "and in 1964 it was learned that two city detectives were actually operating a lottery."

In Columbus, Capt. Robert Taylor, vice squad chief, denied any connection with crime figures.

"I am absolutely not taking any money from anyone. I do not want to dignify their charges. I cannot speak for anyone else. But if an officer is taking he will be prosecuted."

Mayor Maynard E. Sensenbrenner called for a full report from Columbus Safety Director Fred Simon and Police Chief Robert H. Baus.

"I've got confidence in my police department and my safety director," Sensenbrenner said. "If I find any evidence of wrongdoing on the part of the police, we'll get rid of them."

Adelphi School Condemned By Ohio Health

The Adelphi School building has been condemned until the sewage system is replaced.

The condemnation by the Ohio Dept. of Health followed an inspection of the sewage treatment and disposal facilities of the building by Ross County Sanitarian Astor Graves and Richard Marlow, district sanitary engineer.

A letter from Marlow, directed to the Zane Trace Board of Education and Everett E. Park, superintendent of Zane Trace Schools, included a report of the inspection and stated that if the board expected to use the Adelphi Elementary School in the fall of 1969, the necessary replacement of the system could be completed this summer.

The board agreed to obtain bids for the new sewage system with the understanding that the new system will be put in if a nine-mill levy being presented to district voters Tuesday is passed.

"If it does not pass, forget about it — there is nothing else we can do," was the comment of one board member.

No estimate has been made of the cost of a new sewage system.

The proposed 9-mill school levy was turned down by Zane Trace voters in the May balloting. According to school officials, the schools cannot open in the fall without the support of the school levy which would provide operating funds for the school district.

Leist is a member of the state and national bodies of the American Water Works Assn., and a member of the Water Pollution Control Federation.

He served as president of the state AWWA group in 1953-54 and was two times candidate for the office of vice president of the national organization. He was a national director of the AWWA from 1963 to 1966.

He presently serves as chairman of the training publications committee of the AWWA. The committee has just completed its first publication, a training bulletin for water works plant operators.

Local organizations that Leist belongs to include Rotary, the American Legion and Masonic bodies. He is a member of the Circleville United Methodist Church.

Leist entered active duty in the U.S. Army in June, 1943 and was discharged July, 1946 with the rank of captain in the sanitary corps.

In his letter of resignation Leist said:

"Circleville has just begun to grow and with growth comes new problems, new demands, and new responsibilities. I do not propose to repeat my experience of two years ago when due to pressures and responsibilities I endured an enforced period of inactivity."

"I HAVE the highest regard for all my present and past associates within the Department. Without their help and loyalty it would have been very difficult to accomplish the many undertakings."

"No one could have better relationships with all the elected and appointed officials with whom it has been my privilege to work."

"Some of the accomplishments shared with those people are: A new office building, a new iron removal plant, new wells, new elevated storage, and a modern storage yard complete with garage and meter testing shop. I shall always cherish memories of these improvements."

"It is therefore with regret that I tender this, my resignation from active duty as of 30, June 1969 and final separation on 22, July 1969 upon completion of my terminal leave."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Present tax rules encourage building in the suburbs and the city's edge may be tomorrow's slum, House subcommittee members have been told.

In testimony Tuesday, real estate appraiser McCloud B. Hodges Jr., criticized the practice of taking the maximum depreciation on a building, then selling it to another operator who repeats the process.

"A companion of short term ownership is bad property management and maintenance," Hodges said. "We are merely adding more instant slums in the periphery areas."

"The real victims of greed exercised in connection with land are not the first, second, or third occupants of inexpensively built and poorly located apartments."

"They are the lowest income families who will be compelled to live in these concrete slab rooms in the last stages of their economic existence," Hodges said.

The subcommittee is studying slum property speculation. Another group, the House Ways and Means Committee, is reconsidering depreciation provisions as part of its review of the federal tax code.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tire manufacturers whose advertising implies safety for their products at high speeds have 30 days to stop the claims or face formal action from the Federal Trade Commission.

The FTC Tuesday offered these examples of advertising it objects to: "Built low and wide like a racing car," tested at 130 miles per hour; and, certified safe at 100 miles per hour, so you're sure you're safe at 60, 70 or 80."

Speed tests cannot foretell how tires will perform under all road conditions, the FTC said, adding, "such deception involves obvious and serious hazards to life and safety."

Sue Army For Removal Of Death Gas

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A former congressman went to federal court today, seeking to force the Army to get rid of deadly gases it has stored at Rocky Mountain Arsenal, near Denver's busy airport.

Included in the suit was a scientists' report contending the Army has stored enough lethal gas at the arsenal to wipe out the world's present population many times over.

Former U.S. Rep. Byron L. Johnson, a member of the University of Colorado faculty, and four others brought the suit as a class action on behalf of all residents of the area.

They asked a federal judge for an injunction prohibiting the government from storing "chemical and biological warfare agents in any shape or manner" at the arsenal.

Defendants are Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and Lt. Col. John A. Bryan, commander of the arsenal.

The memorandum included as an exhibit in the suit, signed by two University of Colorado physicists and three other scientists and an attorney, quoted Lt. Col. S. J. Efnor, commander of the arsenal in 1954, as saying, "the gas from a single bomb the size of a quart fruit jar could kill every living thing within a cubic mile depending on the wind and weather conditions . . . a tiny drop of the gas in its liquid form on the back of a man's hand will paralyze his nerves instantly and deaden his brain in a few seconds. Death will follow in 30 seconds."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A permit allowing the importing of South African oranges could lead to a latter day version of the Boston Tea Party—an "Orange Party," says Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Mich.

Diggs, in a telegram to the Agriculture Department Tuesday, protested the import permit granted to Amcan Sales Inc., saying, "to foster the further economic growth of racist South Africa spreads an even worse kind of pestilence."

Order GI To Viet Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor ruled today that a sergeant who claimed he was being sent to Vietnam for criticizing U.S. policy is physically fit for duty and must be sent to the war zone.

The Army had held up shipping Staff Sgt. Michael Sanders, 22, a member of the unit which guards the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, after Sens. John Sherman Cooper and Marlow W. Cook from Kentucky asked for a review of the matter.

Sanders is a native of Kentucky.

In addition to claiming he was being sent to Vietnam for criticizing the war, Sanders said he was hard of hearing and had asthma.

The Army held today, after Sanders underwent examination at Walter Reed Army Hospital, that the sergeant does have a hearing limitation as well as an asthmatic condition but could fill an office-type job in Vietnam.

Prisoner Doesn't Want Freedom

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Winston H. Scott, 20, believes he will be better off staying in prison on a while longer and has withdrawn his petition for a review of his conviction.

"At the present time, I am engaged in a bricklaying training program," he wrote the prosecutor. "Soon, I will be placed on work-release and, with the help of the state I now elect to withdraw my petition from your office."

Scott was sentenced in 1967 to eight years for burglary.

Nixon Blasts

Nixon said, "I believe a resurgence of American idealism can bring about a modern miracle—a world order of peace and justice."

While some see the nation's commitments around the world as a form of militarism, he said abandonment of them would be "to have America turn away from greatness." The commander in chief said:

"Skeptics do not build societies; the idealists are the builders. Only societies that believe in themselves can rise to their challenges. Let us not, then, nose a false choice between meeting our responsibilities abroad and meeting the needs of our people at home. We shall meet both or shall meet neither."

Nixon stopped overnight in Colorado Springs before heading west to his new California home, and, on Sunday to Midway Island for a summit conference with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam.

At no point in his academy address did he make any substantive reference to the Vietnam war.

The President said his remarks about new isolationists did not refer to "those responsible critics who reveal waste and inefficiency in our defense establishment, who demand clear answers on procurement policies, who want to make sure a new weapons system will truly add to our defense."

OEO-Backed Foundation Said Involved In Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal poverty agency is investigating reports that staff members of a foundation granted nearly $1 million under President Nixon's black capitalism project were involved in violence at a North Carolina college last month.

Charles Collins, an inspector in the Office of Economic Opportunity, was sent to North Carolina earlier this week to check on complaints that employees of the Foundation for Community Development were linked to the May 21 gun battle at North Carolina A&T at Greensboro in which one student was killed.

The foundation was given $900,000, funded under OEO's Special Impact program, to develop black capitalism projects in Durham, N.C. It also received $80,000 from the Commerce Department's Economic Development Administration.

The Durham program is the Nixon administration's first big pilot project in minority business enterprise and represents the first of $10 million in OEO grants to be allocated before the end of the month to businesses owned by minority groups. The OEO has already released $40,000 of the grant to the foundation and agency officials say more money might be allotted in the next two weeks, depending on the investigation of the program.

But many of Durham's white leaders have protested to the OEO not to release money through the 15-month-old foundation, an outgrowth of the North Carolina Fund.

Jim Holshouser, chairman of the North Carolina Republican party, has urged that federal funds "not be used to feed the fires of unrest which cross North Carolina today."

Holshouser's chief objection was to the alleged involvement of some foundation staff workers in various campus disorders, including North Carolina A&T.

Greensboro police also are investigating to determine if the staff members were involved at North Carolina A&T where one student was killed and eight policemen and National Guardsmen were wounded.

Fluoridation Bill Sponsor Confident Of Senate's OK

Under present law, lifers can be tried only for first-degree murder.

The bill's sponsor, Keith McNamara, R-64 Columbus, said he introduced the bill because the convicts serving life terms at the Ohio Penitentiary could not be brought to trial on charges stemming from last summer's riots at the prison.

Health Center Loan Approved

Robert Kenworthy, of Circleville-Pickaway Corporation, announced today that a loan for a proposed health care center near Circleville High School was approved Tuesday afternoon.

Saturday the local corporation completed the purchase of a 10-acre tract of land just south of the high school where the health center will be erected.

Kenworthy said it would probably be the latter part of July before construction is actually begun.

The local firm plans to start with a 60-bed unit. The dining room and kitchen will be large enough for the 240-bed unit that they hope to complete eventually.

The health care center will be a combination convalescent, rest and nursing home.

Car Theft Reported To Sheriff

Theft of a car was reported by Rosalie Meyers, Route 1, Ashville, to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department Tuesday.

The complainant told sheriff's deputies that her blue 1965 model auto was stolen from in front of her home between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. June 2.

She stated that she went to work with friends and that when she returned home Monday afternoon the car was gone. Mrs. Meyers said that the keys, which she always stored in her purse, were also gone, as was her ex-husband, who had been staying at the house for the previous few days.

$7 Theft Brings $100 Fine In Municipal Court

A local woman charged with stealing $7 was fined $100 plus costs and sentenced to 30 days in jail by Municipal Court Judge Sterling Lamb Tuesday.

Tony Keese, Plainview Trailer Court, Lockbourne, entered a plea of guilty to stealing the money from Janice Koerner. Judge Lamb suspended $75 of the fine and the jail sentence and placed Mrs. Keese on probation for three years.

debtedness of the water department will be reduced another $46,000 this year.

Leist is a member of the state and national bodies of the American Water Works Assn., and a member of the Water Pollution Control Federation.

He served as president of the state AWWA group in 1963-64 and was two times candidate for the office of vice president of the national organization. He was a national director of the AWWA from 1963 to 1966.

He presently serves as chairman of the training publications committee of the AWWA. The committee has just completed its first publication, a training bulletin for water works plant operators.

Local organizations that Leist belongs to include Rotar, the American Legion and Masonic bodies. He is a member of the Circleville United Methodist Church.

Leist entered active duty in the U.S. Army in June, 1943 and was discharged July, 1946 with the rank of captain in the sanitary corps.

In his letter of resignation Leist said:

"Circleville has just begun to grow and with growth comes new problems, new demands, and new responsibilities. I do not propose to repeat my experience of two years ago when due to pressures and responsibilities I endured an enforced period of inactivity.

"I HAVE the highest regard for all my present and past associates within the Department. Without their help and loyalty it would have been very difficult to accomplish the many undertakings.

"No one could have better relationships with all the elected and appointed officials with whom it has been my privilege to work.

"Some of the accomplishments shared with those people are: A new office building, a new iron removal plant, new wells, new elevated storage, and a modern storage yard complete with garage and meter testing shop. I shall always cherish memories of these improvements.

"It is therefore with regret that I tender this, my resignation from active duty as of 30, June 1969 and final separation on 22, July 1969 upon completion of my terminal leave."

Auto Death Settlement Is Reached

The civil suit centering around the auto accident death of an Ashville youth was settled out of court Tuesday afternoon as the jury waited to be summoned.

Roxie McDaniel Jr., Ashville, father of the deceased 17-year-old boy, had brought suit in Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Tuesday morning against Caroline Sapp Franks of Ashville.

The Franks vehicle had struck and killed Randy McDaniel about 6 p.m. Dec. 6, 1968, as he was walking along Route 316 between Ashville and South Bloomfield.

Mrs. Franks had been called Tuesday morning as the plaintiff's first witness. The jury had previously toured the accident site.

The jury retired for lunch about noon Tuesday. By 2 p.m. the attorneys for the parties involved reached a settlement out of court and the jury was dismissed.

McDaniels had sought $51,234 in damages and costs. The final settlement was not disclosed.

Jurors in the case were Delno Steele, Marjorie Warner, John McGhee, Hazel Adams, George Radabaugh, Herbert Justice, Dorothy Hardman, David Yates, Rodney Ward, Robert Good, Richard Davis, Annalou Immell and alternate, Betty Puckett.

Today In Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Present tax rules encourage building in the suburbs and the city's edge may be tomorrow's slum, House subcommittee members have been told.

In testimony Tuesday, real estate appraiser McClelland B. Hodges Jr., criticized the practice of taking the maximum depreciation on a building, then selling it to another operator who repeats the process.

"A companion of short term ownership is bad property management and maintenance," Hodges said. "We are merely adding more instant slums in the periphery areas."

"The real victims of greed exercised in connection with land are not the first, second, or third occupants of inexpensively built and poorly located apartments."

"They are the lowest income families who will be compelled to live in these concrete slab rooms in the last stages of their economic existence," Hodges said.

The subcommittee is studying slum property speculation. Another group, the House Ways and Means Committee, is reconsidering depreciation provisions as part of its review of the federal tax code.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tire manufacturers whose advertising implies safety for their products at high speeds have 30 days to stop the claims or face formal action from the Federal Trade Commission.

The FTC Tuesday offered these examples of advertising it objects to: "Built low and wide like a racing car; tested at 130 miles per hour," and, certified safe at 100 miles per hour, so you're sure you're safe at 60, 70 or 80."

Speed tests cannot foretell how tires will perform under all road conditions, the FTC said, adding, "such deception involves obvious and serious hazards to life and safety."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie has denied he quit the investigative subcommittee of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., because of personal conflict with the Arkansas senator.

Stock List Ekes Gain

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market mustered a small gain in fairly active trading early this afternoon on rekindled hopes of a start on withdrawal of U.S. troops from South Vietnam.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon had edged up 0.19 to 930.97 after showing a gain of 1.48 an hour earlier.

The Associated Press 60-stock average at noon was ahead 8 with industrials up .8, rails up .8 and utilities up .2.

Advances of individual issues led declines by 125 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Gold mining stocks declined after gold prices dropped in London on indications that South Africa had begun to sell major amounts of its gold reserve.

Canadian Export led the most active list on the American exchange, where prices were generally mixed. It gained to 10%.

Candidate Fails To Cast Vote

SEA BRIGHT, N.J. (AP) — "You know, it just dawned on me. I forgot to vote myself today."

So spoke John Hennessey, a tavern owner running for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. "At least I should have voted this time. I'm running," he said Tuesday.

In a letter to McClellan, revealed Tuesday, Muskie said, "The only reason for my resignation was that, in my judgment, I cannot give the time which I expect the subcommittee's work will require this year."

Muskie, a possible presidential candidate in 1972 and presently keeping to an extensive speaking schedule, added that he was "deeply distressed" by reports "attributing my resignation to repeated disagreements with you."

WASHINGTON (AP) — A giant ice-breaking tanker is set to leave July 15 to try and bust open a 20th Century Northwest Passage through Arctic ice to the Alaska oil fields.

Humble Oil Co. officials said Tuesday the company tanker Manhattan will leave July 15 from Philadelphia in what they call a "$30 million gamble."

If successful, Humble hopes to be tanking crude by 1972. If not, the company will explore the alternative of a northern pipeline.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A permit allowing the importing of South African oranges could lead to a latter day version of the Boston Tea Party—an "Orange Party," says Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Mich.

Diggs, in a telegram to the Agriculture Department Tuesday, protested the import permit granted to Amcan Sales Inc., saying, "to foster the further economic growth of racist South Africa spreads an even worse kind of pestilence."

Soviet Bombers Said Intercepted Off Newfoundland

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian and U.S. jet planes intercepted a flight of Russian bombers 90 miles off the east coast of Newfoundland May 14, a Defense Department spokesman disclosed today.

It is understood that the Canadian Voodoo interceptors approached the Soviet planes close enough to identify them as Bear-type bombers. The Bear is a four-engine turboprop with a range of 9,000 miles and the capability of carrying an air-to-surface nuclear missile.

The spokesman quoted officials of North American Air Defense Command as saying that at no time did the Soviet bombers show any evidence of hostile intent.

The bombers—the spokesman said there were several—turned and flew eastward after the interception. American interceptors joined Canadian jets in the operation.

Gambling Revenue Drops In Nevada

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—State revenue from gambling was down more than $2 million for the first three months of this year.

The drop "was caused primarily by the most severe winter in years blocking main routes into Nevada," Chairman Edward Bowers of the Nevada Gaming Commission said Tuesday.

Sue Army For Removal Of Death Gas

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — A former congressman went to federal court today, seeking to force the Army to get rid of deadly gases it has stored at Rocky Mountain Arsenal, near Denver's busy airport.

Included in the suit was a scientists' report contending the Army has stored enough lethal gas at the arsenal to wipe out the world's present population many times over.

Former U.S. Rep. Byron L. Johnson, a member of the University of Colorado faculty, and four others brought the suit as a class action on behalf of all residents of the area.

They asked a federal judge for an injunction prohibiting the government from storing "chemical and biological warfare agents in any shape or manner" at the arsenal.

Defendants are Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and Lt. Col. John A. Bryan, commander of the arsenal.

The memorandum included an exhibit in the suit, signed by two University of Colorado physicists and three other scientists and an attorney, quoted Lt. Col. S. J. Efnor, commander of the arsenal in 1954, as saying, "The gas from a single bomb the size of a quart fruit jar could kill every living thing within a cubic mile depending on the wind and weather conditions . . . a tiny drop of the gas in its liquid form on the back of a man's hand will paralyze his nerves instantly and deaden his brain in a few seconds. Death will follow in 30 seconds."

Order GI To Viet Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor ruled today that a sergeant who claimed he was being sent to Vietnam for criticizing U.S. policy is physically fit for duty and must be sent to the war zone.

The Army had held up shipping Staff Sgt. Michael Sanders, 22, a member of the unit which guards the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier, after Sens. John Sherman Cooper and Marlow W. Cook from Kentucky asked for a review of the matter.

Sanders is a native of Kentucky. In addition to claiming he was being sent to Vietnam for criticizing the war, Sanders said he was hard of hearing and had asthma.

The Army held today, after Sanders underwent examination at Walter Reed Army Hospital, that the sergeant does have a hearing limitation as well as an asthmatic condition but could fill an office-type job in Vietnam.

Prisoner Doesn't Want Freedom

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Winston H. Scott, 20, believes he will be better off staying in prison on a while longer and has withdrawn his petition for a review of his conviction.

"At the present time, I am engaged in a bricklaying training program," he wrote the prosecutor. "Soon, I will be placed on work-release and, with the help of the state I now elect to withdraw my petition from your office."

Scott was sentenced in 1967 to eight years for burglary.

Nixon Blasts

the nation, would leave the world "living in terror" in the kind of peace "that suffocated freedom in Czechoslovakia."

Nixon said, "I believe a resurgence of American idealism can bring about a modern miracle—a world order of peace and justice."

While some see the nation's commitments around the world as a form of militarism, he said abandonment of them would be "to have America turn away from greatness." The commander in chief said:

"Skeptics do not build societies; the idealists are the builders. Only societies that believe in themselves can rise to their challenges. Let us not, then, lose a false choice between meeting our responsibilities abroad and meeting the needs of our people at home. We shall meet both or shall meet neither."

Nixon stopped overnight in Colorado Springs before heading west to his new California home, and on Sunday to Midway Island for a summit conference with President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam.

At no point in his academy address did he make any substantive reference to the Vietnam war.

The President said his remarks did not refer to "those responsible critics who reveal waste and inefficiency in our defense establishment, who demand clear answers on procurement policies, who want to make sure a new weapons system will truly add to our defense."

The Business World

By GEORGE ZUCKER (For John Cuniff)

HONOLULU (AP) — "I know Hawaii has the nation's highest cost of living," the housewife told her husband.

"But this is ridiculous!" The woman, a recent arrival, had just paid 88 cents for a head of lettuce that would have cost 20 cents in Los Angeles.

A tourist may grumble about the high cost of a Hawaii holiday while sipping a $1.30 beer in Waikiki. But it's the Hawaii resident who pays the highest premium for a place in the sun.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor, the Island State has the highest food prices in the nation. And just about everything else.

An executive transferred here was shocked to learn the dingy, rat-trapped home he had just inspected would cost $325 a month.

"I wouldn't even live in it for $100," he told the landlady. She shrugged, confident the house would be rented within the week it was.

With limited housing and no rent controls, finding a place to live is a new resident's biggest headache.

Lt. Gov. Thomas P. Gill disclosed a recent survey that found only seven homes out of every 1,000 in the Honolulu housing market are available to house hunters.

In a report made March 26, Gill said the average price of a home in Hawaii had jumped about $12,000 since 1960. The average price of a single-family dwelling was $28,477, compared to a national average of $15,940. "We can clearly demonstrate that the market price of a single-family home in Hawaii is from 50 to 100 per cent higher than similar housing on the mainland," the report concluded.

The pineapple industry is Hawaii's No. 3 moneymaker, behind the military and tourism, and yet a can of sliced pineapple costs up to 11 cents more here than on the mainland.

A newspaper survey found a market less than 2,000 feet from the gate of Dole's Oahu cannery selling No. 2 cans of sliced pineapple for 39 cents. In Baltimore, identical cans of the Dole Hawaiian product sold for 37 cents.

While the national cost-of-living surveys give Honolulu the honors, behind San Francisco, New York and Chicago, they ignore the Neighbor Islands that comprise the State of Hawaii.

Actually, Honolulu is not the nation's costliest city. That title belongs to Wailuku, on the Island of Maui, the hub of the state's sugar cane industry.

Most of the large mainland companies give employees a 10 per cent cost-of-living salary increase when they are transferred here. Persons stationed in Hawaii with the military receive "overseas pay."

How do residents combat the high cost of living?

Well, you don't wear much clothing. The kids go to school barefoot. And there are no heating bills.

But mostly they put their wives to work.

"Hawaii has the highest percentage of working wives in the nation," says state statistician Robert Schmitt.

Because of this, family income in Hawaii is generally higher than on the mainland. The median family income here is $8,053, against $6,882 on the mainland.

An economic forecast predicts tourism will overtake military spending in the next decade to become the No. 1 industry in Hawaii.

And yet some blame tourism for spiraling prices in Hawaii. Honolulu Mayor Frank Fasi urged the legislature to enact a hotel room tax, hoping to ease the tax burden of local residents.

"We are fast becoming peasants in Paradise," he said.

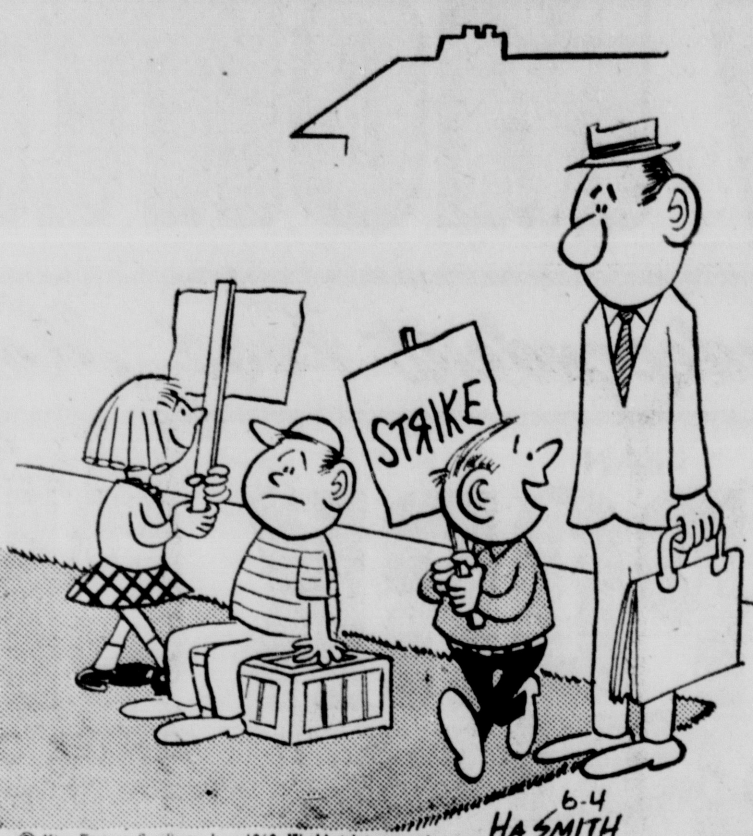

The recent Rotary International convention brought 15,000 Rotarians to Honolulu, each of them spending from $50 to $90 a day.

A group called the "Hawaii Residents Council" mailed mimeographed pleas to Rotarians, urging them to not spend money here.

"We are losing our shirts and souls to the soaring cost of living and the excessive greed that tourism brings," the leaflets said.

"There is little in Hawaii that you cannot buy for less in your hometown."

Laff-A-Day

"We're playing school."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THAT MATCHLESS comedienne, Beatrice Lillie, was once maneuvered into giving a lift to town to an actor she loathed. Approaching the northern terminus of the New Jersey Turnpike, she murmured sweetly to him, "Can I drop you somewhere — off the George Washington Bridge, for instance?"

The late Max Asnas, who parlayed the tiny Stage Door Deli catessen on Seventh Avenue from a modest eating place to a nationally famous institution, built it solidly on two attractions: the fine food and his ready wit. Fred Allen aptly dubbed him "The Corn Beef Confucius."

On day a customer complained that his expensive chapeau had fallen into a bowl of mustard. "What do you think we got here?" demanded Asnas. "Cheap mustard?" Another time he took umbrage when a customer questioned the quality of his corned beef, and bawled him out in no uncertain terms. "You can't talk to me like that," the customer reminded him. "After all, I'm a customer." Asnas roared, ushering him to the exit. "So what do you want to be for one cheap corned-beef sandwich, a PARTNER?"

"Frequent water drinking," advised a specialist, "prevents you from becoming stiff at the joints." "You're right," agreed the patient, "but most of the joints I frequent don't serve water."

Speaking Of Your Health

By Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

When a doctor takes a long, elaborate history from a patient at the time of the first examination, the information he obtains may be more significant than the examination itself. It is important that patients understand this so that they are not irritated by seemingly irrelevant questions.

The first visit to a new doctor produces a great deal of anxiety in some patients. They are nervous and fearful and want to get on with the examination as quickly as possible. Many who are concerned about pain in the abdomen cannot quite understand why the doctor is interested in their headaches, their sleep patterns, or the exact age at which they had mumps.

Bear with us and believe that all this information is most important, even though it seems far removed from your symptoms and appears to be a time consuming nuisance. For example, the frequency with which birth control pills are being taken by married and unmarried women has introduced a great many confusing symptoms to doctors. Sometimes it becomes embarrassing for the doctor to ask a question about the contraceptive pill and, more frequently, girls do not tell their doctor that they are taking them. The result is that a wide area for proper diagnosis may be lost.

The "pill" is a very complicated one and may be responsible for many obvious and, more often, subtle symptoms. In order for the doctor to be given the greatest opportunity to relieve these symptoms, the complete truth about this, and any other drugs must be told him. An important concept is to understand that all information given to a doctor is his property only. Unless this complete confidence is established, many hidden and important details of the personal life of the child, adolescent, and adult, both men and women, will interfere with the proper diagnosis and planning of treatment.

Doctors are often asked what foods are particularly rich in certain vitamins, especially by those people who are vitamin and health food conscious. Normally, a well-balanced diet contains all the minimal requirements of vitamins. The need for supplemental vitamins is greater, of course, in children and the elderly.

Vitamin A is found in milk, eggs, butter, fish, liver, and green and yellow vegetables.

Vitamin B 1, or thiamin, is found in meat, yeast, the above foods, and whole grain cereals. B 2, or riboflavin, is high in dairy foods in addition to the others B 6, niacin, and B 12 are contained in all of the mentioned foods.

Vitamin C is present in high concentration in the citrus fruits, like oranges, lemons and grapefruit. Tomatoes and green peppers have high quantities of Vitamin C. Vitamin D is present in the above foods and, especially, in oils derived from fish livers. Vitamin K is a very special vitamin that is absorbed from the intestinal tract. Vitamin E is found in wheat germ and whole grain cereals.

There should be no guesswork about vitamin deficiencies by patients who "believe" they have them. The doctor can determine this by the symptoms and by precise blood study.

Separatism; Stalinist Idea

By JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

Bella Dodd, the ex-Marxist school teacher and backslid member of the National Committee of the Communist Party in the U.S., died the other day, and there was little enough comment on her career. She had been part of what the ritualistic liberals call the "dreadful McCarthy period," without bothering to distinguish between those who gave us accurate information about Communists and those who dealt in exaggeration. Bella Dodd was one of the accurate witnesses. She had been expelled from the Communist Party in 1949, but short of killing her the Central Committee could not very well expel from her head her memories of a vast acquaintanceship with key Communists. She knew of 1,500 actual Communist Party members in the teaching professions.

I don't know what Bella Dodd would say today about the theory that staff work carried out by orthodox Gus Hall Communists has something to do with twisting the direction of the New Left. Very probably she would be mystified by the apparent fact that there is no single left "conspiracy" in 1969. The Progressive Labor Party, working on Maoist principles, goes one way; the Gus Hall Communists go another; the Trotskyites are a third element. But if there is no obvious coordinating staff work behind the shennigans promoted by New Leftists, there is certainly a contagion of programs and ideas.

One of the contagious programs is for a black apartheid. What has happened is that a blueprint set up by Bella Dodd and her co-Communists on the party's National Committee in 1946 is now being taken up by active radicals who are not necessarily under the control of any party. "The sessions of the December, 1946, National Committee," so Bella Dodd noted, "were notable for their long-winded, long spun-out, and fantastic justification of the line of 'self-determination' of the Negro in the Black Belt." At the time this idea of a separatist Negro state was considered by Negroes to be laughable, if not idiotic.

Said Bella, "Only the intelligence and patience of Negro leaders in America have made possible resistance to his mischievous theory which was contrived by Stalin . . . Briefly told, it is the theory that the Negroes in the South form a nation, a subjugated nation with the desire to become a free one and that the Communists are to give them all assistance."

The theory, be it noticed, was not advanced by the Communists in good faith. As Bella Dodd put it, "It was a theory not for the benefit of the Negroes but to spur strife and to use the American Negro in the world Communist propaganda campaign to win over the colored peoples of the world. Ultimately, the Communists proposed to use them as instruments in the revolution to come in the United States."

After Stalin's death we didn't hear very much of the idea of Negro separatism. But, as everybody who follows the statements of some of the black militant leaders, not necessarily Communist, knows, the idea has surfaced again. Not so long ago Jet Magazine printed the notice of a petition drive for a Black Republic. Said the Jet article: "U.S. blacks working to acquire five states as home for a separate black nation began a drive to get ghetto dwellers to sign petitions, asking payment to blacks for past injustices and for recognition of the newly formed Republic of Black Africa . . . The petitions call for the U.S. to pay $10,000 for each person in the new state — $6,000 to the Republic and $4,000 to the person."

The plan outlined in Jet has had a sympathetic echo in the writings of W. H. Ferry, a member of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions at Santa Barbara, California. In the colleges the agitation for a black-sponsored apartheid takes the form of demands for black study programs which are to be administered and staffed on an autonomous basis by Negroes and limited to Negro students.

Bella Dodd would not have been surprised by the surfacing of an old Communist proposal dating back to Stalinist times. Since no Congressional majority is going to vote to cede Louisiana, Alabama and other southern states to the Republic of New Africa, the idea is still silly from any practical standpoint. But the junior sort of separatism (see the black studies program at Antioch College) is very much alive. In the light of Bella Dodd's testimony, we can't say that we haven't been warned.

Michael O'Shea

By BOB THOMAS
AP Television-Movie Writer

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Recently a burglary suspect peered into the face of the investigating detective and inquired, "Say—aren't you that actor on TV?"

"Nah, I just look like him," said the detective, and he continued his interrogation.

Such inquiries are sometimes put to Ventura County sheriff's Deputy Michael O'Shea, but most people never suspect that an actor would be doing actual police work. He usually introduces himself as Michael Shaw to forestall recognition.

Film fans and students of the late, late show will recall O'Shea as the bustling, fast-talking star of "Lady of Burlesque," "Mr. District Attorney," "Captain China," "Fixed Bayonets" and a few dozen other films. He also co-starred with James Dunn and Bill Bishop in a television series, "It's A Great Life."

O'Shea now lives in this hilly community 30 miles north of Hollywood with his wife, actress Virginia Mayo, and their daughter Mary, 16. He still takes an occasional acting job, but his principal activity is working full time for the Ventura County Sheriff's Department.

"I've been on the night shift from 4 to 12, but now I'm going on 8 to 4 in the morning," he said. "I work with a younger man, and we travel all over the county on burglaries, robberies, murders—whatever can't be handled by the black-and-white (patrol) cars."

"Sure, I pack a gun and I sometimes have to draw it. Thank God, I've never had to drop the hammer."

What's an actor doing in police work? O'Shea explained that it's the fulfillment of an ambition that dates to his New York childhood.

"Four of my uncles were on the NYPD," he said, "and it was the despair of my father that I never made it. I tried. I went to Delahanty's school for prospective policemen, and I applied for the force year after year. But I was a runt—5 feet 9 and 130 pounds. They always turned me away. 'Try the Fire Department,' they told me."

He turned to acting on the Broadway stage and then in films, but his ambition to be a cop never died. One night he met the Los Angeles County sheriff at a party and told him of his offstage interest. The next day the actor was sworn in as a deputy, and he put in duty in the tough Firestone and East Los Angeles districts.

During his television series, O'Shea had dropped 40 pounds from his previous 178, presumably from overwork. But his health worsened, and doctors found a lump over his heart they believed to be cancer. Later it proved to be a distended aorta which O'Shea thinks was caused by a rodeo spill. An operation cured four ulcers and also remedied four hernias, but left him permanently slim.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Poor Man's Philosopher:

"I am graduating from college this week and have already ordered a frame for my sheepskin."

"Now I'm trying to figure out what to do next. Would you mind telling me how I can live a long and happy life?"

"Wondering."

Dear Wondering:

Certainly, my boy. It's easy to tell someone else how to live a long and happy life. Doing it oneself, of course, is quite another matter.

The first thing I'd do if I were you is to throw away any old picket signs you may have been carrying lately. You won't need them anymore unless you have decided to become a career picket.

The next thing to do is to find a steady job. Your sheepskin should be of help in opening a few doors. But remember it is only a badge of accomplishment; it is not a passport to immediate prosperity.

Unless you are unusually self-reliant, it is probably better to work for a corporation rather than try to start off on your own. And don't worry too much if you aren't offered a vice presidency of the firm the first few months.

While the world is full of vice presidents, most of them spent years before achieving that thick rug on the floor, that nameplate on the door. Be content to do the nitty-gritty tasks until you learn the rules of the business game.

From the day you get your first paycheck until the day you cash your last one, be sure to save or invest at least 15 per cent of every one you get. This often may mean a real sacrifice, but it will give you a cushion of confidence and win the respect of your peers.

As soon as you are on a regular payroll, you will be astounded at how many young women are willing to marry you. Don't be in a hurry and wed a girl merely because she is pretty, has a steady job herself or a rich papa.

Her beauty may come from the drugstore, she may quit her job, or her papa may lose his riches. Wait and marry the girl you find you simply cannot live any longer without.

Here are some further general rules that should help bring you success and health:

If you find you simply can't stand the line of work you're in, quit while you're young and go into one you can stand.

Don't call your boss by his first name unless you marry his daughter or he has been calling you by your first name for at least five years.

Lend or borrow money only when you must do so to keep your own self-respect.

Work for only a few good causes. If you try to work for every worthwhile cause, you'll fritter yourself away.

Read a new book or an old poem at least once a week, get eight hours of sleep every night and walk three miles every day, do your best to keep from falling in love with your neighbor's wife, and never interrupt your own wife when she's telling you something she insists is for your own good.

Keep out of jail yourself, and teach your children to stay out, too.

If you follow these simple rules, my boy, you should live to be 100, and die solvent. If you don't—well, it won't be your fault or mine either.

The Business World

By GEORGE ZUCKER (For John Cuniff)

HONOLULU (AP) — "I know Hawaii has the nation's highest cost of living," the housewife told her husband.

"But this is ridiculous!"

The woman, a recent arrival, had just paid 88 cents for a head of lettuce that would have cost 20 cents in Los Angeles.

A tourist may grumble about the high cost of a Hawaii holiday while sipping a $1.30 beer in Waikiki. But it's the Hawaii resident who pays the highest premium for a place in the sun.

According to the U.S. Department of Labor, the Island State has the highest food prices in the nation. And just about everything else.

An executive transferred here was shocked to learn the dingy, rat-trapped home he had just inspected would cost $325 a month.

"I wouldn't even live in it for $100," he told the landlady. She shrugged, confident the house would be rented within the week it was.

With limited housing and no rent controls, finding a place to live is a new resident's biggest headache.

Lt. Gov. Thomas P. Gill disclosed a recent survey that found only seven homes out of every 1,000 in the Honolulu housing market are available to house hunters.

In a report made March 26, Gill said the average price of a home in Hawaii had jumped about $12,000 since 1960. The average price of a single-family dwelling was $28,477, compared to a national average of $15,940.

"We can clearly demonstrate that the market price of a single-family home in Hawaii is from 50 to 100 per cent higher than similar housing on the mainland," the report concluded.

The pineapple industry is Hawaii's No. 3 moneymaker, behind the military and tourism, and yet a can of sliced pineapple costs up to 11 cents more here than on the mainland.

A newspaper survey found a market less than 2,000 feet from the gate of Dole's Oahu cannery selling No. 2 cans of sliced pineapple for 39 cents. In Baltimore, identical cans of the Dole Hawaiian product sold for 37 cents.

While the national cost-of-living surveys give Honolulu the honors, behind San Francisco, New York and Chicago, they ignore the Neighbor Islands that comprise the State of Hawaii.

Actually, Honolulu is not the nation's costliest city. That title belongs to Waikuku, on the island of Maui, the hub of the state's sugar cane industry.

Most of the large mainland companies give employees a 10 per cent cost-of-living salary increase when they are transferred here. Persons stationed in Hawaii with the military receive "overseas pay."

How do residents combat the high cost of living?

Well, you don't wear much clothing. The kids go to school barefoot. And there are no heating bills.

But mostly they put their wives to work.

"Hawaii has the highest percentage of working wives in the nation," says state statistician Robert Schmitt.

Because of this, family income in Hawaii is generally higher than on the mainland. The median family income here is $8,053, against $6,882 on the mainland.

An economic forecast predicts tourism will overtake military spending in the next decade to become the No. 1 industry in Hawaii.

And yet some blame tourism for spiraling prices in Hawaii.

Honolulu Mayor Frank Fasi urged the legislature to enact a hotel room tax, hoping to ease the tax burden of local residents.

"We are fast becoming peasants in Paradise," he said.

The recent Rotary International convention brought 15,000 Rotarians to Honolulu, each of them spending from $50 to $90 a day.

A group called the "Hawaii Residents Council" mailed mimeographed pleas to Rotarians, urging them to not spend money here.

"We are losing our shirts and souls to the soaring cost of living and the excessive greed that tourism brings," the leaflets said.

"There is little in Hawaii that you cannot buy for less in your hometown."

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

THAT MATCHLESS comedienne, Beatrice Lillie, was once maneuvered into giving a lift to town to an actor she loathed. Approaching the northern terminus of the New Jersey Turnpike, she murmured sweetly to him, "Can I drop you somewhere — off the George Washington Bridge, for instance?"

The late Max Asmas, who parlayed the tiny Stage Door Deli into a nationally famous institution, built it solidly on two attractions: the fine food and his ready wit. Fred Allen aptly dubbed him "The Corn Beef Confucius."

On day a customer complained that his expensive chapeau had fallen into a bowl of mustard. "What do you think we got here?" demanded Asmas. "Cheap mustard?" Another time he took umbrage when a customer questioned the quality of his corned beef, and bawled him out in no uncertain terms. "You can't talk to me like that," the customer reminded him. "After all, I'm a customer." Asmas roared, ushering him to the exit. "So what you want to be for one cheap corned-beef sandwich, a PARTNER?"

"Frequent water drinking," advised a specialist, "prevents you from becoming stiff at the joints." "You're right," agreed the patient, "but most of the joints I frequent don't serve water."

I went to Delahanty's school for prospective policemen, and I applied for the force year after year. But I was a runt—5 feet 9 and 130 pounds. They always turned me away. 'Try the Fire Department,' they told me."

He turned to acting on the Broadway stage and then in films, but his ambition to be a cop never died. One night he met the Los Angeles County sheriff at a party and told him of his offstage interest. The next day the actor was sworn in as a deputy, and he put in duty in the tough Firestone and East Los Angeles districts.

During his television series, O'Shea had dropped 40 pounds from his previous 178, presumably from overwork. But his health worsened, and doctors found a lump over his heart they believed to be cancer. Later it proved to be a distended aorta which O'Shea thinks was caused by a rodeo spill. An operation cured the condition and also remedied four ulcers and two hernias, but left him permanently slim.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Poor Man's Philosopher: 'I am graduating from college this week and have already ordered a frame for my sheepskin.'"

"Now I'm trying to figure out what to do next. Would you mind telling me how I can live a long and happy life?"

"Wondering."

Dear Wondering: Certainly, my boy. It's easy to tell someone else how to live a long and happy life. Doing it oneself, of course, is quite another matter.

The first thing I'd do if I were you is to throw away any old picket signs you may have been carrying lately. You won't need them anymore unless you have decided to become a career picket.

The next thing to do is to find a steady job. Your sheepskin should be of help in opening a few doors. But remember it is only a badge of accomplishment; it is not a passport to immediate prosperity.

Unless you are unusually self-reliant, it is probably better to work for a corporation rather than try to start off on your own. And don't worry too much if you aren't offered a vice presidency of the firm the first few months.

While the world is full of vice presidents, most of them spent years before achieving that thick rug on the floor, that nameplate on the door. Be content to do the nitty-gritty tasks until you learn the rules of the business game.

From the day you get your first paycheck until the day you cash your last one, be sure to save or invest at least 15 per cent of every one you get. This often may mean a real sacrifice, but it will give you a cushion of confidence and win the respect of your peers.

As soon as you are on a regular payroll, you will be astounded at how many young women are willing to marry you. Don't be in a hurry and wed a girl merely because she is pretty, has a steady job herself or a rich papa.

Her beauty may come from the drugstore, she may quit her job, or her papa may lose his riches. Wait and marry the girl you find you simply cannot live any longer without.

Here are some further general rules that should help bring you success and health:

If you find you simply can't stand the line of work you're in, quit while you're young and go into one you can stand.

Don't call your boss by his first name unless you marry his daughter or he has been calling you by your first name for at least five years.

Lend or borrow money only when you must do so to keep your own self-respect.

Work for only a few good causes. If you try to work for every worthwhile cause, you'll fritter yourself away.

Read a new book or an old poem at least once a week, get eight hours of sleep every night and walk three miles every day, do your best to keep from falling in love with your neighbor's wife, and never interrupt your own wife when she's telling you something she insists is for your own good.

Keep out of jail yourself, and teach your children to stay out, too.

If you follow these simple rules, my boy, you should live to be 100, and die solvent. If you don't—well, it won't be your fault or mine either.

Volpe Has Tough Time With Road Finances

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe appears to have the most trouble of any Cabinet member getting programs past the financial advisers who guard the gates to the White House.

A Volpe aide, however, denies there is any friction between the department and the groups of economists who pore over every program suggested to the President.

"There is a real feeling of rapport," said personal aide Barry Locke.

Despite this, a billion-dollar-a-year mass transit program is the latest proposal to encounter opposition in a chain of events going back at least to a confidential White House memo dated Feb. 17 opposing a policy change favored by the highway lobby.

A Budget Bureau official confirmed Monday the agency had, as expected, objected to the trust fund concept of financing that is the guts of the transit proposal.

The Budget Bureau holds the government purse strings. It virtually speaks for the White House and although it can be overruled it seldom is.

Under the trust fund approach, which has been used for more than a decade in building the nation's highways, funds are committed in advance, bypassing the lengthy and sometimes hazardous annual reviews by Congress.

Some economists oppose the concept because they say it limits presidential flexibility in budget matter.

Treasury officials also reportedly have stated opposition to the current mass transit proposal, although there were some indications that other presidential advisers may be softening earlier objections.

Two other major transportation programs—an airports and airways construction program and the Supersonic Transport plane—reportedly have been stalled for weeks by an internal debate over financing and need although a break could be near on the 1,800-mile-an-hour airliner.

Although none of Volpe's programs have been scrapped so far, his track record wasn't given much of a start by the Feb. 17 memo from Paul McCracken, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers, to the White House.

Plan to attend the Westfall carry-in dinner to honor Westfall band members on June 24 at 6:30 p.m. All students, parents and their friends are invited. Guest speaker is Dr. Charles Spohn, dean of the School of Arts at OSU and director of OSU band. Films of the OSU band in action at the Rose Bowl game will be shown and also presentation of awards to band members for past performances.

The community feels a great loss on hearing that the Reverend and Mrs. Richard Maurer and family are moving to McArthur. They have contributed much to the community and we are sure they will be welcomed in their new home and make many new friends there.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Spangler had as Sunday dinner guests, Miss Nancy Smith and brother, Don Smith.

Saturday guests of Mrs. Cora Puckett were Mr. and Mrs. H. Harry Warner and daughter of Lancaster and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bussert of Baltimore. Evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bussert. On Sunday, her sister, Mrs. Eva Roon and grandson, Billy Jo Roon of Columbus and Mr. and Mrs. William Bussert were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Gossard and children and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Puckett enjoyed a picnic along the creek at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Toops near Mt. Sterling on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Sweet called on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schaefer of Springfield on Monday afternoon.

Birthdays to date include: John Looney, June 1; Bridget Elliott, June 2; David Schein, June 3; Pauline Musselman, Archie Sweet, Rex Ingman and Grace Huffman, all on June 4; Shirley Fields, James Grabill, Sharon Lewis and Bill Edwards, all on June 5; Judy Dingus, June 6; Dwight Spangler and Jerri Furniss, June 7.

Anniversary greetings to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Wardell, June 6 and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Liff, June 7.

Wording of the memo was learned although the council flatly declined to comment at all.

The memo objected to ending cutbacks and freezes on highway funds as an economy tool. The practice was begun in the previous administration despite trust fund protection. Road builders said it made the industry unstable.

"Expenditures for highways is one of the easier parts of the budget to manipulate because precise schedules for highways to be completed are not urgent to users. Complaints come from state highways people and contractors," the memo said.

It could not be learned whether the memo was in response to a request from Volpe or some other Cabinet officer, but the memo subsequently was sent to the Transportation Department.

An attempt to ascertain Volpe's public position on cutbacks resulted in some confusion.

A spokesman for the Federal Highways Administration in the Transportation Department said, however, that the former Massachusetts governor, construction magnate and one-time federal highways administrator's stand was well known.

"Volpe and Turner keep saying they are against cutbacks. It's no secret," the spokesman said, referring to the current highways administrator, F. C. Turner.

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said Tuesday the Nixon administration is "either unable or unwilling" to meet the problem of feeding the poor.

Describing hunger as a "serious and needless public health emergency," Humphrey said:

"In January a new administration, declaring its intention to eradicate hunger, came on the scene. But months have gone by and little has been accomplished."

"One is forced to conclude that the over-all hunger attack outlined with such fanfare by the President a few weeks ago—but not yet put before Congress—lacks the urgency so clearly required."

Sandwich-Maker's Art An Open-Faced Secret

By ALICE DENHOFF

Tivoli Gardens, the statue of the Little Mermaid, and the glorious array of smorrebrod (open-faced sandwich) at Oskar David's are, for many a visitor, the prime attractions of Copenhagen the lovely Danish capital. At this super sandwich emporium are 177 fabulous fillings symmetrically arranged on 4 different kinds of bread, which makes a total of 708 decisions to make while the waiter taps his foot.

Pleasant Puzzle

Amateur sandwich-makers invariably try to figure out the extra something that sets these creations apart and gives the filling such unique flavor. Well, the chief seasoning apparently boils down to a skillful use of black pepper. This pungent spice is added to the mix or layers as they are prepared and then is used as a garnish over the whole works.

Now that these peppery statements are disposed of, here are some suggestions. Place slices of smoked salmon along both sides of buttered dark or white bread. Spoon scrambled eggs down middle. Sprinkle with freshly ground black pepper and garnish eggs with parsley flakes.

How about putting slices of roast veal on buttered dark or white bread. Season with salt and ground black pepper. Cut thin slices of cucumber in halves or quarters and arrange in any desired pattern over veal. Cut peeled, cooked beets into thin strips, about 1/2-inch wide. Curl strips with fingers and place in center of cucumber arrangement. Another big favorite at David's is built around shrimp. Cook shrimp until tender. Cut each shrimp in half lengthwise. Saute in butter seasoned with salt and ground black pepper. Place shrimp halves along both sides of buttered dark or white bread. Run a line of mayonnaise down center of each slice. Garnish with additional mayonnaise.

You might also try: GRILLED CRABMEAT AND EGG SANDWICH

3 hard-cooked eggs
1 can (6 to 7 ounces) crabmeat, flaked
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1-16 tablespoon garlic powder
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
6 slices bread
6 slices tomato
3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
Salt and pepper to taste

Peel eggs, chop the whites and 2 of the yolks, saving the third yolk for later use. Add next 6 ingredients, mixing well. Spread mixture over bread slices. Top each with a tomato slice. Brush with melted butter. Sprinkle with salt and pepper to taste.

Place under broiler to grill 5 to 8 minutes with control at broiler position. Remove from broiler and sprinkle with remaining yolk put through a sieve.

For a cream-cheese dip for fresh vegetables, beat the cream cheese; then add finely grated onion (pulp and juice), minced fresh dill and lemon juice to taste. Beat in a little cream — enough to give good dipping consistency.

Creamed dried beef left over? You'll find it's delicious added to mashed potatoes.

NEW YORK (AP) — The American public had its first real closeup look at Sirhan Sirhan, convicted assassin of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy in an interview with NBC news correspondent Jack Perkins, portions of which were broadcast on the network's "First Tuesday" program.

The slight, dark man, speaking with some accent, responded volubly, almost eagerly, to the newsman's questions—up to the point when he was asked about the events immediately surrounding the shooting of the senator a year ago. Most of the time a half-smile played on his features.

Perkins reminded Sirhan of testimony that he had been drinking and looked around the Ambassador Hotel for some coffee Sirhan agreed. "I don't remember much that happened after that . . ." he said.

Much of his talk was confusing since Sirhan repeatedly voiced his affection for Kennedy, his sorrow about his death and his inability to realize the man died at his hand.

The excerpts included in the two-hour news show were introduced by host Sander Vanocur who said the interview was conducted the day after Sirhan had been sentenced to death, had been arranged through the prisoner's counsel "for a fee." Since the whole interview lasted some two hours and only about 18 minutes of it was shown, perhaps the continuity suffered by editing.

NBC's monthly two-hour show competes, during its second half with CBS's weekly news hour. Since the Sirhan interview was the high point of the program, NBC shrewdly held it for that last portion.

The first hour was filled with features that seemed long and drawn out. There was an inspection of some high school and college students interested in witchcraft and the occult, including one stagy-looking sequence showing some teen-age girls holding a seance during a slumber party.

It was followed by a segment showing the less than affluent life on a small tropic island in Micronesia, followed by some material on Guam—"Grand Rapids with palms." Vanocur called it—where, in spite of neon signs and other beauties of civilization, honeymooning Japanese couples find a romantic paradise.

There was also a long feature on a smoking clinic, long on exhortation on the evils of cigarettes and testimonials by the participants but no help to any viewers who wanted to quit. There was a short and interesting bit, later in the program on a fairly successful voluntary sterilization program in overpopulated India.

There may be some complaints from California after Arthur Miller, the playwright, read a "collage" of thoughts assembled during a tour of the state. Most of his impressions, illustrated as he spoke, were dryly cynical.

Some samples: "California is Christianity plus all the conveniences" (illustrated by services at a drive-in church). "Tragedy is when you lose your boat."

"Society is when people listen to classical music."

"Progress is anything that turns itself on and off."

The total impression was so rough that Vanocur appeared with a postscript stating that Miller had said that his observations were not meant to apply to California exclusively.

5 More Ohioans Die In Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department reported Tuesday that five more Ohioans have become casualties of the Vietnam war.

Army Spec. 4 Floyd E. Barber of Franklin, Army Pvt. Patrick M. Hagerty of Youngstown and Marine Cpl. Daniel L. Pucci of Berea were killed in action.

Changed from missing to dead was Army Pfc. Henry R. Hausman Jr., of Hilliard while Army Spec. 4 Robert J. Fuller of Swanton died not as a result of hostile action.

The average South Korean farm measures only 1.3 acres. Storms rage beneath the surface of the ocean as well as above. Violent "weather fronts," maelstroms, currents and mudslides are blamed for some submarine disasters.

U.S. War Dead May Hit 40,000 By This October

SAIGON (AP) — The total number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam last week was about the same as the week before, allied sources reported today, but South Vietnamese and enemy totals dropped sharply.

The sources, reporting in advance of the official summary to be issued Thursday, said the combat death toll was between 250 and 300 U.S. troops, 231 South Vietnamese and at least

2,637 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

The official figures for the week before May 18-24, were 265 Americans, 413 South Vietnamese troops, and 3,968 of the enemy. American battlefield deaths from Jan. 1 through May 24 totaled 5,009, or an average of 238 a week.

If this rate continues, the total number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war will pass 40,000 by early October. The total May 24 was 35,530.

There was no explanation for the variance in the casualties last week.

Two sharp fights Monday were reported 52 miles northeast of Saigon in the Communist command's War Zone D and in War Zone C 50 miles northwest of the capital. A total of 30 North Vietnamese and seven Americans from the 1st Air Cavalry Division were reported killed and 50 Americans wounded.

A U.S. spokesman said in both actions the North Vietnamese opened fire on air cavalrymen searching for food and munitions at two sites where sizeable caches had been found in recent weeks.

In War Zone D, about 400 North Vietnamese entrenched in bunkers opened fire on 150 Air Cavalrymen as the Americans approached the area along the Dong Ngai River.

The Air Cavalrymen pulled back and called in bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery to soften up the enemy bunkers.

Another 150 Air Cavalrymen were rushed in, and the ground troops attacked.

Despite the massive American support, the North Vietnamese fought from morning until dusk. Field reports said 29 North Vietnamese and five Americans were killed and 38 Americans were wounded in this fight. Three of the Americans were killed when their small observation helicopter was shot down.

New Guns To Counter Viet Red Air Advances

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Fast-firing, harder-hitting guns are being planned for U.S. jet fighters because of dramatic progress made by North Vietnamese pilots against American planes.

Air Force work on developing the gun will start in the coming fiscal year and the weapon will be installed in the F15, a jet fighter designed to provide clear U.S. superiority over any Russian-built jets in the 1970s.

Dr. John S. Foster, the Pentagon's research chief, disclosed recently that North Vietnam's fighter pilots were battling U.S. war planes on almost even terms in the latter stages of the air war.

Foster told Congress: "During air operations over North Vietnam in 1967 we commanded a five-to-one aircraft kill ratio in air-to-air engagements. In fiscal 1968, the North Vietnamese cut our advantage by destroying 26 U.S. aircraft while losing 31 of their own. "Fiscal year 1970 plans include engineering development of gun systems optimized for air-to-air combat and a family of improved 20mm rounds characterized by increased mass, size and impact energy."

Asked about this, the Air Force credited North Vietnamese dogfight gains to improved tactics, far better use of ground radar control, and "very selective" choice of combat by North Vietnamese pilots.

"They stopped 'mixing it up' and instead made carefully controlled missile firing passes only when conditions were extremely advantageous to them," the Air Force spokesman said.

Furthermore, North Vietnamese pilots used their best planes—the MIG 21—almost exclusively for challenging U.S. fighters, the Air Force said, and sent up older model MIGs only as decoys.

The Air Force denied that any deficiencies in U.S. weapons were responsible for the loss of the earlier U.S. combat advantage in 1968.

At the same time, there were reports that a secret study of the performance of U.S. planes and pilots over North Vietnam pointed out deficiencies in certain equipment.

These reported deficiencies, it was learned, will lead to improvements in F15 gear, including better equipment for telling friend from foe at long distances.

The Journal of the Armed Forces said the "Red Baron study" disclosed that in about 25 per cent of the aerial engagements, enemy pilots were able to swing their planes behind U.S. aircraft before being detected.

This gave the surprised U.S. pilots little chance to evade before being attacked.

Thus, the F15 will incorporate advances in long range airborne radar technology.

The Air Force said aircraft guns now in its inventory were built according to technology developed in the 1945-1950 period.

"The state of the art in the meantime has progressed to the point that more effective air-to-air gun systems can be designed for new aircraft such as the F15," it said.

Pay TV Not To Replace Free TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pay-television will be yanked off the air in any area where it begins putting free TV out of business, says Rosel H. Hyde, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Hyde said in an interview, however, that fears the proposed authorization of pay-TV would spell the end of free programs are unjustified.

In two months, the FCC has received about 150 letters from TV fans who believe—as opposition advertising suggests—that free TV is in danger.

Last Dec. 13, the FCC issued general rules for permitting pay-TV service, in which a broadcast signal is transmitted in a scrambled form that can only be unscrambled on the home TV set by use of a rented decoder.

The rules take effect June 12, but this does not mean an immediate start on pay-TV.

An appeal by the National Association of Theater Owners and Joint Committee Against Toll TV is under consideration by the District of Columbia Circuit Court of Appeals, and the FCC has agreed not to authorize any pay-TV operations for 60 days after the court decision.

The National Association of Broadcasters also has expressed fears that pay-TV could eventually force free TV off the air.

The FCC will permit one pay-TV station each in areas which already have at least four free commercial TV signals available, not counting educational TV.

Asked whether pay-TV, once established, could continue if an area no longer had the required four other signals, Hyde said the loss of a fourth commercial station in any area would be an "automatic disqualification" of continued pay-TV in that market.

"We could even put them on a one-year license if we wished, to provide more frequent review of circumstances," he speculated, "but I'm not sure that would be necessary. Three years (the normal life of a broadcast license) might be enough."

Machine Prices For Fags Hiked

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cigarette smokers in Ohio paying 40 cents to buy a pack of cigarettes in vending machines will begin paying 45 cents in most machines on Monday, according to a vending official.

Richard Galvin, president of the Ohio Automatic Cigarette Vendors Association, said the nickel increase was caused by recent price hikes by major cigarette manufacturers and by increased costs for labor and equipment. About three-fourths of the state's vending machines belong to Association members.

Galvin said the price for 100 millimeter cigarettes will remain at 45 cents a pack. He said that vendors in other states are expected to raise prices to 55 and 60 cents a pack and pointed out that Ohio vendors have not raised prices since September, 1967.

Barbara Shutt Awaits Hearing On Bond Request

CINCINNATI (AP)—Barbara Shutt, 23, accused of killing her foster mother, awaits a hearing set for June 11, on her request for bond.

She was being held in the Hamilton County Jail, awaiting grand jury action.

The motion was filed Tuesday by her attorney, Bernard Gilday Jr., and the hearing was scheduled for Common Pleas Court.

The young woman was charged with first-degree murder a day after the May 25 shooting of Dr. Jane Shutt. The local psychiatrist was the wife of Charles Shutt, former dean of Berea College in Kentucky. Miss Shutt was adopted by the Shutt family six years ago.

Boycott Classes At Wilberforce

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP)—A boycott of classes by the entire student body — 23 men — of Payne Theological Seminary was expected to continue until shortly before graduation exercises Friday morning.

A student spokesman said Tuesday that the students plan to meet with the seminary's board of trustees Friday morning and expect the dispute to be settled then.

Neither the students nor officials of the seminary, which is a part of adjoining Wilberforce University and an affiliate of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, would say what the dispute is all about.

U.S. War Dead May Hit 40,000 By This October

SAIGON (AP) — The total number of Americans killed in action in Vietnam last week was about the same as the week before, allied sources reported today, but South Vietnamese and enemy totals dropped sharply.

The sources, reporting in advance of the official summary to be issued Thursday, said the combat death toll was between 250 and 300 U.S. troops, 231 South Vietnamese and at least

2,637 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong.

The official figures for the week before May 18-24, were 265 Americans, 413 South Vietnamese troops, and 3,968 of the enemy. American battlefield deaths from Jan. 1 through May 24 totaled 5,009, or an average of 238 a week.

If this rate continues, the total number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war will pass 40,000 by early October. The total May 24 was 35,530.

There was no explanation for the variance in the casualties last week.

Two sharp fights Monday were reported 55 miles northeast of Saigon in the Communist command's War Zone D and in War Zone C 50 miles northwest of the capital. A total of 30 North Vietnamese and seven Americans from the 1st Air Cavalry Division were reported killed and 50 Americans wounded.

A U.S. spokesman said in both actions the North Vietnamese opened fire on air cavalrymen searching for food and munitions at two sites where sizeable caches had been found in recent weeks.

In War Zone D, about 400 North Vietnamese entrenched in bunkers opened fire on 150 Air Cavalrymen as the Americans approached the area along the Dong Nai River.

The Air Cavalrymen pulled back and called in bombers, helicopter gunships and artillery to soften up the enemy bunkers.

Another 150 Air Cavalrymen were rushed in, and the ground troops attacked.

Despite the massive American support, the North Vietnamese fought from morning until dusk. Field reports said 29 North Vietnamese and five Americans were killed and 38 Americans were wounded in this fight. Three of the Americans were killed when their small observation helicopter was shot down.

Barbara Shutt Awaits Hearing On Bond Request

CINCINNATI (AP)—Barbara Shutt, 23, accused of killing her foster mother, awaits a hearing set for June 11, on her request for bond.

She was being held in the Hamilton County Jail, awaiting grand jury action.

The motion was filed Tuesday by her attorney, Bernard Gilday Jr., and the hearing was scheduled for Common Pleas Court.

The young woman was charged with first-degree murder a day after the May 25 shooting of Dr. Jane Shutt. The local psychiatrist was the wife of Charles Shutt, former dean of Berea College in Kentucky.

Miss Shutt was adopted by the Shutt family six years ago.

Boycott Classes At Wilberforce

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP)—A boycott of classes by the entire student body — 23 men — of Payne Theological Seminary was expected to continue until shortly before graduation exercises Friday morning.

A student spokesman said Tuesday that the students plan to meet with the seminary's board of trustees Friday morning and expect the dispute to be settled then.

Neither the students nor officials of the seminary, which is a part of adjoining Wilberforce University and an affiliate of the African Methodist Episcopal Church, would say what the dispute is all about.

New Guns To Counter Viet Red Air Advances

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fast-firing, harder-hitting guns are being planned for U.S. jet fighters because of dramatic progress made by North Vietnamese pilots against American planes.

Air Force work on developing the gun will start in the coming fiscal year and the weapon will be installed in the F15, a jet fighter designed to provide clear U.S. superiority over any Russian-built jets in the 1970s.

Dr. John S. Foster, the Pentagon's research chief, disclosed recently that North Vietnam's fighter pilots were battling U.S. war planes on almost even terms in the latter stages of the air war.

Foster told Congress: "During air operations over North Vietnam in 1967 we commanded a five-to-one aircraft kill ratio in air-to-air engagements. In fiscal 1968, the North Vietnamese cut our advantage by destroying 26 U.S. aircraft while losing 31 of their own.

"Fiscal year 1970 plans include engineering development of gun systems optimized for air-to-air combat and a family of improved 20mm rounds characterized by increased mass, size and impact energy."

Asked about this, the Air Force credited North Vietnamese dogfight gains to improved tactics, far better use of ground radar control, and "very selective" choice of combat by North Vietnamese pilots.

"They stopped 'mixing it up' and instead made carefully controlled missile firing passes only when conditions were extremely advantageous to them," the Air Force spokesman said.

Furthermore, North Vietnamese pilots used their best planes—the MIG 21—almost exclusively for challenging U.S. raiders, the Air Force said, and sent up older model MIGs only as decoys.

The Air Force denied that any deficiencies in U.S. weapons were responsible for the loss of the earlier U.S. combat advantage in 1968.

At the same time, there were reports that a secret study of the performance of U.S. planes and pilots over North Vietnam pointed out deficiencies in certain equipment.

These reported deficiencies, it was learned, will lead to improvements in F15 gear, including better equipment for telling friend from foe at long distances.

The Journal of the Armed Forces said the "Red Baron study" disclosed that in about 25 per cent of the aerial engagements, enemy pilots were able to swing their planes behind U.S. aircraft before being detected.

This gave the surprised U.S. pilots little chance to evade before being attacked.

Thus, the F15 will incorporate advances in long range airborne radar technology.

The Air Force said aircraft guns now in its inventory were built according to technology developed in the 1945-1950 period.

"The state of the art in the meantime has progressed to the point that more effective air-to-air gun systems can be designed for new aircraft such as the F15," it said.

Pay TV Not To Replace Free TV

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pay-television will be yanked off the air in any area where it begins putting free TV out of business, says Rosel H. Hyde, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Hyde said in an interview, however, that fears the proposed authorization of pay-TV would spell the end of free programs are unjustified.

In two months, the FCC has received about 150 letters from TV fans who believe—as opposition advertising suggests—that free TV is in danger.

Last Dec. 13, the FCC issued general rules for permitting pay-TV service, in which a broadcast signal is transmitted in a scrambled form that can only be unscrambled on the home TV set by use of a rented decoder.

The rules take effect June 12, but this does not mean an immediate start on pay-TV.

An appeal by the National Association of Theater Owners and Joint Committee Against Toll TV is under consideration by the District of Columbia Circuit Court of Appeals, and the FCC has agreed not to authorize any pay-TV operations for 60 days after the court decision.

The National Association of Broadcasters also has expressed fears that pay-TV could eventually force free TV off the air.

The FCC will permit one pay-TV station each in areas which already have at least four free commercial TV signals available, not counting educational TV.

Asked whether pay-TV, once established, could continue if an area no longer had the required four other signals, Hyde said the loss of a fourth commercial station in any area would be an "automatic disqualification" of continued pay-TV in that market.

"We could even put them on a one-year license if we wished, to provide more frequent review of circumstances," he speculated, "but I'm not sure that would be necessary. Three years (the normal life of a broadcast license) might be enough."

This didn't satisfy a spokesman for the NAB who said "The rules won't work. The FCC will either alter them or abandon them. Either we stick with the present system or we'll wind up with all-pay television."

Hyde bridled at the thought. He agreed the FCC might tighten up rules if loopholes were found but added, "The suggestion we might modify the rules to conduct siphoning off (programs from free TV) is repugnant to what was always our policy."

Machine Prices For Fags Hiked

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Cigarette smokers in Ohio paying 40 cents to buy a pack of cigarettes in vending machines will begin paying 45 cents in most machines on Monday, according to a vending official.

Richard Galvin, president of the Ohio Automatic Cigarette Vendors Association, said the nickel increase was caused by recent price hikes by major cigarette manufacturers and by increased costs for labor and equipment. About three-fourths of the state's vending machines belong to Association members.

Galvin said the price for 100 millimeter cigarettes will remain at 45 cents a pack. He said that vendors in other states are expected to raise prices to 55 and 60 cents a pack and pointed out that Ohio vendors have not raised prices since September, 1967.

Cincy Broadcasters Given Sloan Award

NEW YORK (AP) — Two broadcasters with a Cincinnati television station were presented a 1969 Alfred P. Sloan award at a luncheon ceremony here Tuesday.

The $2,000 award, given for contributions by broadcasters to automotive safety, was shared by Tom Robertson and John Gunseman of WLW-TV.

Dear Abby:

Tune Out His Food Complaints

DEAR ABBY: I don't know how many wives get bawled out every week for spending too much money on groceries, but I am one of them.

I spend about $40 a week on groceries. Is that a lot? There are four of us. My husband, two children ages 4 and 5, and myself. My husband takes home about $150 a week, and we are only $300 in debt.

Now, here is why I have to spend so much for groceries. My husband has to have meat, potatoes, and gravy every night of the week. He won't eat leftovers, and he doesn't like casseroles. The only vegetable he'll eat is corn. He has to have REAL butter on everything. He demands a milk-shake with EVERY meal! This means he consumes nearly two gallons of ice cream all by himself every week.

He insists on cake or pie and candy and cookies in every lunch, in addition to two sandwiches. In case you think he's a big man, he's not. He's 5 ft. 9 inches and weighs 160 pounds. Don't tell me to tell him to do the marketing. He won't go inside a store. He says that's MY job.

What would you do, if you were me?

PENNY PINCHER
DEAR PENNY PINCHER: Tune him out when he complains. Then invite a sharp life insurance agent over to sell your man a policy that will provide handsomely for you and the children after he has eaten himself in the grave. From what you say, it won't be long now.

DEAR ABBY: How can I possibly tell my pastor to please develop a firmer handshake? He is a wonderful man, but when he shakes your hand, you feel as tho you have been holding an old dishrag.

ANNIE
DEAR ANNIE: It may not be necessary to TELL him if you show him. Next time YOU give him a firm grip. Many men are reluctant to give a lady as firm a handshake as they'd give a man. It's a mistake. I don't recommend a bone crusher, but a firm handshake is the only meaningful kind.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are presently househunting in Connecticut. Friends who have lived there have told us that there's a real swinging crowd of socialites living there.

They said that one of their neighbors used to throw wild parties and one of their favorite games was the "key" party. All the women would toss their housekeys into a hat and a man would pick out a key and go home and spend the night with the lady whose key he got. Can this be true?

HOUSE HUNTING
DEAR HUNTING: I doubt it. A real swinger wouldn't take a chance on getting his own wife.

DEAR ABBY: Today I laid my little 4-month-old baby down on the front seat of our car and in a matter of seconds his little head was badly burned.

You see, the new cars all

Escaped Convict Frees Hostages, Gives Self Up

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP) — An escaped convict surrendered today after holding a farmer hostage throughout the night in a farmhouse. A fellow escapee gave himself up hours earlier to hundreds of police who surrounded the house.

Ricardo Resendez, 26, Los Angeles, accused of killing one guard and abducting another in an escape Monday, came out of the home of Isley Wilcox shortly after dawn and was taken to the Robeson County Jail where convict James Lee already was held.

Wilcox, 67, walked out unsteadily with Resendez and prison Maj. Sam Garrison, who had gone in to accept Resendez's surrender after prolonged telephone conversations from a tap-in less than 50 yards from the house.

Papal Visit Stirs Opposition In Geneva

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer
GENEVA (AP) — This city once known as the Protestant Rome is preparing to welcome Pope Paul VI Tuesday in the spirit of ecumenism, but there are some misgivings about the ecclesiastical trappings that go with a papal visit.

VISTA To Work In Dayton Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Forty Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) workers will be assigned to work for a 10-week period in the Dayton area, Gov. James A. Rhodes announced Monday.

Some of the VISTA volunteers will be assigned on an experimental police-community relations program while others will organize recreation programs and assist elderly and poor residents.

Highlights of the Pope's 11-hour stay include an address to the 50th anniversary conference of the International Labor Organization and a meeting with leaders of the World Council of Churches to emphasize efforts toward Christian unity.

But the biggest public event will be an outdoor pontifical Mass, attended by four cardinals and about 15 bishops, at which 50,000 persons are expected.

Some Protestants express concern at this Roman Catholic display in a center of the Reformation, the city that was home to John Calvin.

The Journal de Geneve commented: "The splendor surrounding the brief stay of the Pope on our soil and above all the open-air Mass does not agree, in our view, with the social and ecumenical significance of his visit."

A letter from a reader published in one newspaper called on the city's government to prevent the Mass by invoking a 1875 law that forbids religious ceremonies "on public roads."

The militant Union for the Defense of Protestantism, in a telegram to Swiss President Ludwig Von Moos, charged that the Pope was coming to Geneva to "destroy the freedom of those who prefer the authority of Christ to that of Rome."

Students of Geneva's reformist Calvin College staged a little noticed protest march through the city carrying banners which called for a "halt to the Pope, halt to obscurantism."

Another small group, the Evangelical Alliance, plans a demonstration Sunday before the big Reformation Monument. Organizers said it was not directed against the papal visit but was to emphasize the role of Geneva as a cradle of the Reformation.

"The Protestants dispersed abroad and the suppressed minorities would not understand if we did not do anything to affirm our faith," the organizers said in a statement.

The National Protestant Church, which comprises the majority of the Protestant community, hailed the visit in a statement but added that "at the eve of this visit it seems essential to us to affirm our desire to be faithful to the Gospel in the line traced by the Reformers."

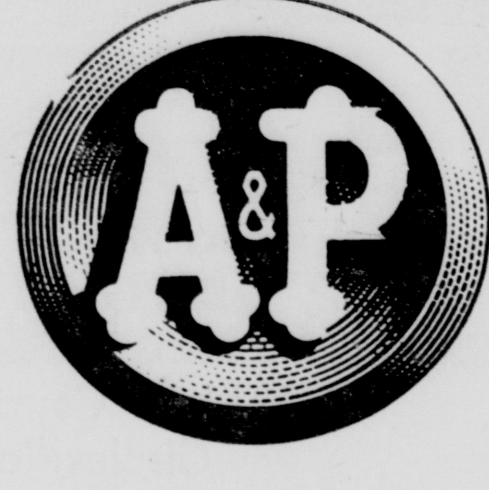

"We are aware that different trends are apparent inside the Catholic Church as they are in all other Christian churches," the statement continued. "It remains valid today that, as in the 16th century, we cannot accept the official doctrine of the Roman Church regarding Mass, the adoration of the Virgin, the saints and the relics, the indulgences, the papacy and an equivocalness which makes Paul VI a head of state at the same time as a head of Church."

Swiss officials are trying to insure that the visit is not marred by any radical manifestations. Their work is complicated by the fact that Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and former Premier David Ben-Gurion of Israel also will be here.

Now, here is why I have to spend so much for groceries. My husband has to have meat, potatoes, and gravy every night of the week. He won't eat leftovers, and he doesn't like casseroles. The only vegetable he'll eat is corn. He has to have REAL butter on everything. He demands a milk-shake with EVERY meal! This means he consumes nearly two gallons of ice cream all by himself every week.

He insists on cake or pie and candy and cookies in every lunch, in addition to two sandwiches. In case you think he's a big man, he's not. He's 5 ft. 9 inches and weighs 150 pounds. Don't tell me to tell him to do the marketing. He won't go inside a store. He says that's MY job.

What would you do, if you were me?

PENNY PINCHER: DEAR PENNY PINCHER: Tune him out when he complains. Then invite a sharp life insurance agent over to sell your man a policy that will provide handsomely for you and the children after he has eaten himself in the grave. From what you say, it won't be long now.

DEAR ABBY: How can I possibly tell my pastor to please develop a firmer handshake? He is a wonderful man, but when he shakes your hand, you feel as tho you have been holding an old dishrag.

ANNIE: DEAR ANNIE: It may not be necessary to TELL him if you show him. Next time YOU give HIS hand a firm grip. Many men are reluctant to give a lady as firm a handshake as they'd give a man. It's a mistake. I don't recommend a bone crusher, but a firm handshake is the only meaningful kind.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are presently househunting in Connecticut. Friends who have lived there have told us that there's a real swinging crowd of socialites living there.

They said that one of their neighbors used to throw wild parties and one of their favorite games was the "key" party. All the women would toss their housekeys into a hat and a man would pick out a key and go home and spend the night with the lady whose key he got. Can this be true?

HOUSE HUNTING: DEAR HUNTING: I doubt it. A real swinger wouldn't take a chance on getting his own wife.

DEAR ABBY: Today I laid my little 4-month-old baby down on the front seat of our car and in a matter of seconds his little head was badly burned.

You see, the new cars all come with seat belts, which I am not used to. The car had been parked in the sun for a few hours and metal clasps on the seat belt got red hot.

Abby, please warn other mothers of this hazard. I wish someone had warned me.

HEAVY-HEARTED: Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Escaped Convict Frees Hostages, Gives Self Up

LUMBERTON, N.C. (AP) — An escaped convict surrendered today after holding a farmer hostage throughout the night in a farmhouse. A fellow escapee gave himself up hours earlier to hundreds of police who surrounded the house.

Ricardo Resendez, 26, Los Angeles, accused of killing one guard and abducting another in an escape Monday, came out of the home of Isley Wilcox shortly after dawn and was taken to the Robeson County Jail where convict James Lee already was held.

Wilcox, 67, walked out unsteadily with Resendez and prison Maj. Sam Garrison, who had gone in to accept Resendez's surrender after prolonged telephone conversations from a tap-in less than 50 yards from the house.

Papal Visit Stirs Opposition In Geneva

By HANNS NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer
GENEVA (AP) — This city once known as the Protestant Rome is preparing to welcome Pope Paul VI Tuesday in the spirit of ecumenism, but there are some misgivings about the ecclesiastical trappings that go with a papal visit.

VISTA To Work In Dayton Area

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Forty Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) workers will be assigned to work for a 10-week period in the Dayton area, Gov. James A. Rhodes announced Monday.

Some of the VISTA volunteers will be assigned on an experimental police - community relations program while others will organize recreation programs and assist elderly and poor residents.

Highlights of the Pope's 11-hour stay include an address to the 50th anniversary conference of the International Labor Organization and a meeting with leaders of the World Council of Churches to emphasize efforts toward Christian unity.

But the biggest public event will be an outdoor pontifical Mass, attended by four cardinals and about 15 bishops, at which 50,000 persons are expected.

Some Protestants express concern at this Roman Catholic display in a center of the Reformation, the city that was home to John Calvin.

The Journal de Geneve commented: "The splendor surrounding the brief stay of the Pope on our soil and above all the open-air Mass does not agree, in our view, with the social and ecumenical significance of his visit."

A letter from a reader published in one newspaper called on the city's government to prevent the Mass by invoking a 1875 law that forbids religious ceremonies "on public roads."

The militant Union for the Defense of Protestantism, in a telegram to Swiss President Ludwig Von Moos, charged that the Pope was coming to Geneva to "destroy the freedom of those who prefer the authority of Christ to that of Rome."

Students of Geneva's reformist Calvin College staged a little noticed protest march through the city carrying banners which called for a "halt to the Pope, halt to obscurantism."

Another small group, the Evangelical Alliance, plans a demonstration Sunday before the big Reformation Monument. Organizers said it was not directed against the papal visit but was to emphasize the role of Geneva as a cradle of the Reformation.

"The Protestants dispersed abroad and the suppressed minorities would not understand if we did not do anything to affirm our faith," the organizers said in a statement.

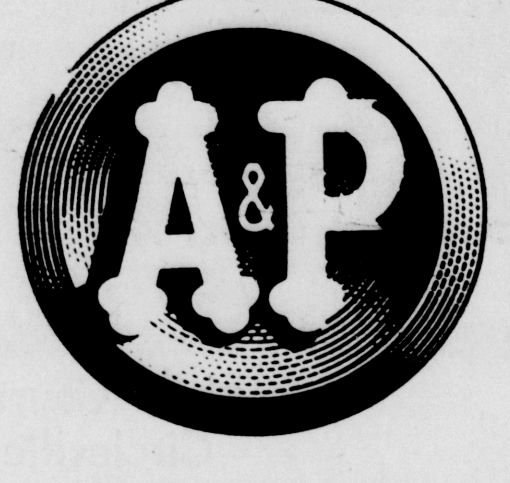

The National Protestant Church, which comprises the majority of the Protestant community, hailed the visit in a statement but added that "at the eve of this visit it seems essential to us to affirm our desire to be faithful to the Gospel in the line traced by the Reformers."

"We are aware that different trends are apparent inside the Catholic Church as they are in all other Christian churches," the statement continued. "It remains valid today that, as in the 16th century, we cannot accept the official doctrine of the Roman Church regarding Mass, the adoration of the Virgin, the saints and the relics, the indulgences, the papacy and an equivocalness which makes Paul VI a head of state at the same time as a head of Church."

Swiss officials are trying to insure that the visit is not marred by any radical manifestations. Their work is complicated by the fact that Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia and former Premier David Ben-Gurion of Israel also will be here.

New Research Guidelines For Human Experiments Set

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has quietly put out new guidelines for medical experiments on humans, but an official concedes the chief result may be to "foster a lot of paper garbage."

Despite debate over greater protection for organ transplant patients, the new guidelines are almost exactly the same as ones published in 1966, a year and a half before the world's first heart transplant.

They were mailed last month to institutions sharing some $300 million a year for research involving human beings.

A spokesman for The National Institute of Health said a deliberate effort was made to avoid public announcement.

"As you know there was a raging public debate and we didn't see any need to become more involved in the controversy," an NIH official said.

The guidelines, dated May 1, were sent out just as the debate over heart transplants flared anew with accusations that Dr.

Denton A. Cooley had used an artificial heart developed under a federally funded program without permission of the program's director.

Cooley implanted the device at Baylor University medical school in a patient who later died. He first said the device was not developed under the federal program, but a university investigation later disclosed that it was.

A university promise to tighten compliance with federal guidelines apparently satisfied the National Heart Institute and no action was taken to cut off federal funds, which is the only penalty provided under the 1966 rules and the new ones.

An NIH official said the organization is not a regulation agency such as the Food and Drug Administration and "we're mainly interested in getting projects financed."

The chief requirement of the 1966 guidelines was that institutions harboring such research set up boards for "initial and continuing" review of the projects.

The original guidelines also required institutions to submit written assurances that not only would such reviews be held but that they would include complete protection of an individual's rights.

for the increase," he said. "If we do not, I will be compelled next January to strip our city of practically all employees."

Ballard said the proposed cigarette tax would "afford us a measure of relief."

Ballard said it would be a "miracle" if Akron voters pass the income tax increase in September.

Mayors also testifying for the bill were Carl B. Stokes of Cleveland, M. E. Sensenbrenner of Columbus, Eugene Ruehlman of Cincinnati, William J. Ensign of Toledo and Stan Cimich of Canton.

Dayton's city manager, Graham W. Watt, also urged the bill's passage.

The proposed cigarette tax would bring in $13 million a year. Eight million dollars would go toward the interest on 70 per cent of the police and firemen's pension fund's total accrued liability of $413 million.

Under the bill, cities would annually pay 2 per cent of the interest costs.

The other five million would go to stabilize the cities' current rate for future pensions and to provide a more realistic pension for widows.

Ohio's nine largest cities owe $309 million of the total accrued liability of $413 million.

Duke Of Windsor Tours Milk Plant

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP)—The Duke of Windsor learned something about milk, bread and doughnuts Tuesday as he toured the facilities of the Lawson Milk Co. on its 30th anniversary. Then he flew back to New York to celebrate his own 32nd wedding anniversary.

The duke, who will be 75 in three weeks, was flown to Lawson's big plant as guest of Nathan Cummings, the founder and honorary chairman of Consolidated Foods Corp., which is Lawson's parent company.

Cities Urge Hike In Cigarette Tax

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Six big city mayors and a city manager urged the legislature Tuesday night to raise the tax on a package of cigarettes by one cent to help pay interest costs on the police and firemen's pension fund.

All told the House State Government Committee that their cities desperately needed money to help pay off the interest on the fund's total accrued liability.

But Akron Mayor John S. Ballard really dropped a bomb. He told the committee he plans to announce next week that Akron will ask for a one-half per cent income tax increase in the September primary.

The city presently has a 1 per cent income tax.

Temperatures Rise Across Plains Areas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fair and mild weather fanned through a widening stretch of the midcontinent today while a late-season chill eased into the Northeast.

Temperatures were 12 to 15 degrees warmer than a day earlier across the Northern Plains and adjacent areas of the Midwest, regions nipped by record lows Tuesday.

The unseasonable chill hung onto the central Great Lakes, however, and dropped temperatures into the 30s in Wisconsin and Michigan. Marquette, Mich., on the southern shore of Lake Superior, cooled to 33 before daybreak.

Thunderstorms rolled across the Southern Plains during the night. Winds up to 60 miles an hour swept Midland, Tex., and more than two inches of rain soaked Laredo, in southern Texas.

Precipitation elsewhere was scarce during the predawn hours.

Summerlike heat extended through much of the interior Far West. Temperatures in the mid 90s ranged as far north as eastern Washington Tuesday.

CHARGED IN THEFT—LaMar Edward Kay (top), 40, and Seldon Clarence Darrow, 31, both of Salt Lake City, Utah, have been charged in connection with the disappearance of $600,000 from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon).

Ship Collision Kills 3 Brothers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Boatswain's Mate 2.C Gary Sage worried about serving with his two brothers on the Navy destroyer USS Evans.

"He said if anything happened the family could lose all three," recalled Mrs. Cheryl Hargens in rural Niobrara, Neb., where she was a classmate of Gary's two younger brothers.

Gary's worst fear became grim reality Tuesday when the Pentagon informed Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sage that three of their sons had died when the Australian carrier Melbourne sliced through the Evans in the South China Sea.

The tragedy took the lives of 73 U.S. seamen and was felt in homes scattered across the country. One California woman lost a son but her husband was among the survivors of the pre-dawn collision.

Ship Collision Kills 3 Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three Ohioans were reported missing following the collision between the U. S. Navy destroyer Frank E. Evans and the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne in the South China Sea.

They were Tech. 3 C. Larry A. Gracely of Lima, Seaman Apprentice James F. Dykes III of Lancaster and Bosun's Mate John A. Sauvey of Marblehead.

Seventy-three seamen were reported missing in the disaster and the Navy announced Tuesday night that "we have absolute confidence that we have picked up all survivors."

Meyner, Cahill Vie In Jersey For Governor

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Former Democratic Gov. Robert B. Meyner and Republican U.S. Rep. William T. Cahill emerged as the candidates today for a November governor's race matching two men of similar political style and similar political problems.

Both won nominations Tuesday in crowded primary contests that left potentially party-damaging scars. Both stressed party unity.

Cahill, a moderate, narrowly defeated U.S. Rep. Charles W. Sandman Jr., who campaigned as the only unmistakable conservative in the Republican field of five.

Meyner withstood a dual challenge—from the old-line Democratic organization in populous Hudson County and from a new coalition of liberals. But his margin was 3-to-2 in a field of six.

Innocent Plea Upheld By Judge

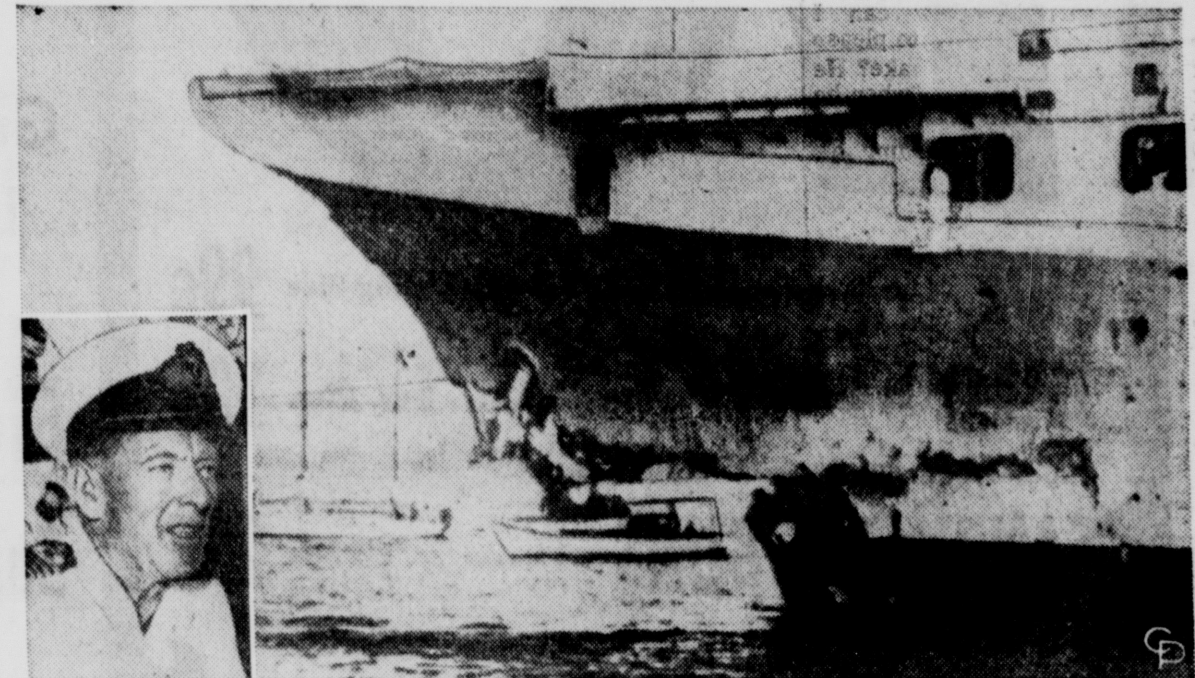

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Joe Henderson pleaded innocent in City Court Tuesday to a charge of running a red light.

Fair and mild weather fanned through a widening stretch of the midcontinent today while a late-season chill eased into the Northeast.

Temperatures were 12 to 15 degrees warmer than a day earlier across the Northern Plains and adjacent areas of the Midwest, regions nipped by record lows Tuesday.

The unseasonable chill hung onto the central Great Lakes, however, and dropped temperatures into the 30s in Wisconsin and Michigan. Marquette, Mich., on the southern shore of Lake Superior, cooled to 33 before daybreak.

Thunderstorms roiled across the Southern Plains during the night. Winds up to 60 miles an hour swept Midland, Tex., and more than two inches of rain soaked Laredo, in southern Texas.

Precipitation elsewhere was scarce during the predawn hours.

Summerlike heat extended through much of the interior Far West. Temperatures in the mid 90s ranged as far north as eastern Washington Tuesday.

CHARGED IN THEFT—LaMar Edward Kay (top), 40, and Seldon Clarence Darrow, 31, both of Salt Lake City, Utah, have been charged in connection with the disappearance of $600,000 from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon).

ONE MORE TIME—JUNE 15—A strong bloc of nearly 5 million Communist votes apparently holds the possible key in determining whether Georges Pompidou or Alain Poher will be the next president of France. They will vie in a runoff election June 15. Poher, 60, who won 23.3 per cent of the votes, talks with newsmen (left) in Paris following the election. Also in Paris, Pompidou, 57, who got 44.1 per cent of the votes, talks to newsmen (right) at his headquarters. In center, former President Charles de Gaulle and his wife enjoy peace and quiet of countryside at Connamara, Ireland.

Ship Collision Kills 3 Brothers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Boatswain's Mate 2.C Gary Sage worried about serving with his two brothers on the Navy destroyer USS Evans.

"He said if anything happened the family could lose all three," recalled Mrs. Cheryl Hargens in rural Niobrara, Neb., where she was a classmate of Gary's two younger brothers.

Gary's worst fear became grim reality Tuesday when the Pentagon informed Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Sage that three of their sons had died when the Australian carrier Melbourne sliced through the Evans in the South China Sea.

The tragedy took the lives of 73 U.S. seamen and was felt in homes scattered across the country. One California woman lost a son but her husband was among the survivors of the pre-dawn collision.

The three Sage brothers lost in the accident were Gary, 22, Radarman 3.C Gregory, 21, and Seaman Appren. Kelly, 19. The Sage's surviving child is Douglas, 7, who was playing in the farmyard Tuesday.

He watched excitedly at a bustling neighbor bearing a cake entered the house. The cars of friends filled the normally quiet farmyard in northeast Nebraska.

Relatives, many who lived nearby, busied themselves feeding the livestock and handling the other routine chores. In Niobrara, a town of 750, residents gathered in the business district shocked by the blow.

An uncle, Lawrence Sage of Niobrara, said it was "a bad mistake on the part of the Navy to let them all serve together. It's bad enough to lose one boy. But no one should have to lose three."

But Navy officials indicated that when feasible, requests from members of the same family to serve together are honored. And the brothers asked to be assigned together said Capt. Ivan C. Griswold of the Naval Personnel and Training Center at Omaha.

In Costa Mesa, Calif., Mrs. Lawrence J. Reilly Sr. lost a son but her husband was coming home. She said her husband had requested duty on the Evans "because of Larry Junior, he was worried about the boy."

"I can't believe it," Mrs.

Lawrence J. Reilly Jr., 19, told her mother-in-law. "I got a letter from Larry just the other day. He was so happy that his enlistment was almost ended. He was coming home in September . . ."

"What will I ever tell the baby?" the young widow asked. "How will I explain to him how his father died when I don't really understand it myself? Why . . .?"

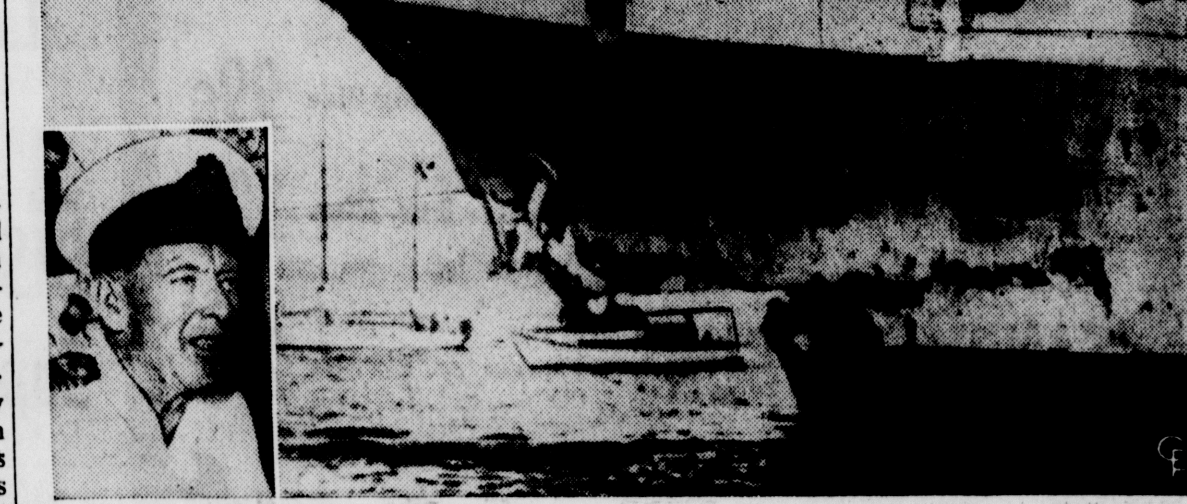

Electronics technician 3.C James F. Bradley of Syracuse, N.Y. was making his first cruise on a ship his father helped build 25 years ago. James R. Bradley, a former shipfitter, said he worked on the construction of the Evans at the Bethlehem shipyards on Staten Island.

Ship Collision Kills 3 Ohioans

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three Ohioans were reported missing following the collision between the U.S. Navy destroyer Frank E. Evans and the Australian aircraft carrier Melbourne in the South China Sea.

They were Tech. 3 C. Larry A. Gracely of Lima, Seaman Apprentice James F. Dykes III of Lancaster and Bosun's Mate John A. Sauvey of Marblehead.

Seventy-three seamen were reported missing in the disaster and the Navy announced Tuesday night that "we have absolute confidence that we have picked up all survivors."

AIRCRAFT CARRIER SLICES DESTROYER—An American destroyer was sliced in two 285 miles southeast of Saigon, Vietnam, by the Australian aircraft carrier (shown in port following the tragedy) during maneuvers, and 57 of the destroyer Frank E. Evans' crew of 273 were feared dead. The captain of the carrier Melbourne is John P. Stevenson (inset).

Burger Seeks Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice designate Warren E. Burger declared Tuesday that the Supreme Court has no power to legislate or to amend the Constitution. He asked that the Senate judge him on his record as a federal appeals court judge.

In a crowded, tightly guarded hearing room, Burger sought approval of the Senate Judiciary Committee as the successor to the retiring Earl Warren.

While southern Democrats, many of them bitter critics of the Warren court, joined in praising Burger, a heavy force of Capitol police stood guard against the threat of a Mexican-American to try to place him under citizen's arrest.

Reies Lopez Tijerina stood outside the hearing room, clutching a red-bound copy of "The Law of Arrest," declaring to anyone who would listen that Burger has violated the civil rights of minorities and the poor.

The room was crowded with lawyers, police, and invited guests, and the line of would-be spectators wasn't moving. The Judiciary Committee had belatedly switched from a larger hearing room, apparently for the sake of security.

South Koreans May Make M16 Rifle In Own Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says it is drawing up an unprecedented plan to let South Korea produce the American M16 rifle, a weapon with a history of controversy.

Defense Department officials said South Korea asked permission to manufacture M16s to speed modernization of its homeland military forces facing an increasingly hostile North Korea.

The spokesman emphasized that the Korean production plan would not delay supplies of M16s for the 40,000 U.S. troops in South Korea still without the modern weapon. Only 10,000 have M16s with the remainder outfitted with heavier and older M14s.

The Defense Department has disclosed that discussions for South Korea's "co-production" of the lightweight, rapid fire weapon have been under way since April. The idea was approved in principle in May 1968 after North Korea seized the USS Pueblo intelligence ship.

Pentagon officials said they could recall no similar situation where another country was allowed to manufacture a basic U.S. Army weapon.

The M16 became a focus of controversy on two fronts after its introduction in Vietnam in 1966.

First, U.S. troops in Vietnam complained the rifle often jammed during battle. After receiving heavy criticism, the Pentagon convinced Congress the jamming problem was being eased by improved cleaning procedures in the field and through special modifications of the firing chamber.

'Death Squad' Strikes Against Pair In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — One suspected criminal was killed and another barely escaped execution last weekend by the notorious Death Squad.

The bullet-torn body of Francisco Ribeiro da Silva, a suspect in the killing of a policeman, was found on a country road outside Rio.

Marinho Soares Simas was taken to a hospital after he was found in the country suffering from several bullet wounds. He said he was questioned by police about a robbery and then taken into the country and shot. He was found by a hunter.

The Death Squad, generally believed to be made up of policemen, has been responsible for the killing of many suspected criminals in recent months.

The 316-foot Pig Ben has slipped a few inches in the last 110 years.

Escapee From Viet Cong Home; 2 Wives Await Him

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — Army Sgt. Kenneth R. Gregory, who escaped from a Viet Cong prison, had a reunion with his mother and grandmother Tuesday as two women who also wanted to welcome both claimed to be his wife.

Gregory's 3-year-old daughter, Michelle, and her mother, Patricia, flew into Oklahoma from Colorado late Monday night and were taken to Ft. Sill by Army escort.

Meanwhile, Eva Gregory, 32, San Pedro, Calif., was preparing to fly to Oklahoma at Red Cross expense to greet the returning GI, whom she said she married in a Methodist church in Altus, Okla., in 1967.

A few hours before her scheduled departure, however, she told the San Diego Union that the Red Cross had canceled its sponsorship of the trip at Gregory's request.

"The Red Cross said Kenneth refused to see me or talk to me and asked them to deny me admittance to the hospital where he is," she said.

"I was told by the Army that they recognized Kenney's former wife as legal next of kin. Since then I've been told that his ex-wife claims that they have never been divorced."

The Army said he had lost only 10 pounds since he was captured northwest of Saigon last August in a Viet Cong ambush of his supply convoy. After his escape he was lifted by U.S. helicopter out of the jungle of Tay Ninh City near Cambodia.

The California woman said Gregory sent her money regularly before he was captured but that she has not heard from him since.

Burger Seeks Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice - designate Warren E. Burger declared Tuesday that the Supreme Court has no power to legislate or to amend the Constitution. He asked that the Senate judge him on his record as a federal appeals court judge.

In a crowded, tightly guarded hearing room, Burger sought approval of the Senate Judiciary Committee as the successor to the retiring Earl Warren.

While southern Democrats, many of them bitter critics of the Warren court, joined in praising Burger, a heavy force of Capitol police stood guard against the threat of a Mexican-American to try to place him under citizen's arrest.

Reies Lopez Tijerina stood outside the hearing room, clutching a red-bound copy of "The Law of Arrest," declaring to anyone who would listen that Burger has violated the civil rights of minorities and the poor.

The room was crowded with lawyers, police, and invited guests, and the line of would-be spectators wasn't moving. The Judiciary Committee had belatedly switched from a larger hearing room, apparently for the sake of security.

South Koreans May Make M16 Rifle In Own Plants

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon says it is drawing up an unprecedented plan to let South Korea produce the American M16 rifle, a weapon with a history of controversy.

Defense Department officials said South Korea asked permission to manufacture M16s to speed modernization of its homeland military forces facing an increasingly hostile North Korea.

The spokesman emphasized that the Korean production plan would not delay supplies of M16s for the 40,000 U.S. troops in South Korea still without the modern weapon. Only 10,000 have M16s with the remainder outfitted with heavier and older M14s.

The Defense Department has disclosed that discussions for South Korea's "co-production" of the lightweight, rapid fire weapon have been under way since April. The idea was approved in principle in May 1968 after North Korea seized the USS Pueblo intelligence ship.

Pentagon officials said they could recall no similar situation where another country was allowed to manufacture a basic U.S. Army weapon.

The M16 became a focus of controversy on two fronts after its introduction in Vietnam in 1966.

First, U.S. troops in Vietnam complained the rifle often jammed during battle. After receiving heavy criticism, the Pentagon convinced Congress the jamming problem was being eased by improved cleaning procedures in the field and through special modifications of the firing chamber.

'Death Squad' Strikes Against Pair In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — One suspected criminal was killed and another barely escaped execution last weekend by the notorious Death Squad.

The bullet-torn body of Francisco Ribeiro da Silva, a suspect in the killing of a policeman, was found on a country road outside Rio.

Marinho Soares Simas was taken to a hospital after he was found in the country suffering from several bullet wounds. He said he was questioned by police about a robbery and then taken into the country and shot. He was found by a hunter.

The Death Squad, generally believed to be made up of policemen, has been responsible for the killing of many suspected criminals in recent months.

Escapee From Viet Cong Home; 2 Wives Await Him

FT. SILL, Okla. (AP) — Army Sgt. Kenneth R. Gregory, who escaped from a Viet Cong prison, had a reunion with his mother and grandmother Tuesday as two women who also wanted to welcome both claimed to be his wife.

Gregory's 3-year-old daughter, Michelle, and her mother, Patricia, flew into Oklahoma from Colorado late Monday night and were taken to Ft. Sill by Army escort.

Meanwhile, Eva Gregory, 32, San Pedro, Calif., was preparing to fly to Oklahoma at Red Cross expense to greet the returning GI, whom she said she married in a Methodist church in Altus, Okla., in 1967.

A few hours before her scheduled departure, however, she told the San Diego Union that the Red Cross had canceled its sponsorship of the trip at Gregory's request.

"The Red Cross said Kenneth refused to see me or talk to me and asked them to deny me admittance to the hospital where he is," she said.

"I was told by the Army that they recognized Kenney's former wife as legal next of kin. Since then I've been told that his ex-wife claims that they have never been divorced."

The Army said he had lost only 10 pounds since he was captured northwest of Saigon last August in a Viet Cong ambush of his supply convoy. After his escape he was lifted by U.S. helicopter out of the jungle of Tay Ninh City near Cambodia.

The California woman said Gregory sent her money regularly before he was captured but that she has not heard from him since.

Mets Top LA, 5-2; Expos Bombed, 9-3

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Gill Hodges feels good and hopes to feel better. Gene Mauch has felt better and knows what it's like to feel worse.

Therein lies the tale of two expansion clubs—the New York Mets playing like no Met team has ever played before and the Montreal Expos playing like only one Met has ever played before.

It all came about Tuesday night when the Mets trounced Los Angeles 5-2 and went over the .500 mark after the first week of the season for the first time in their eight-year existence.

The Expos, meanwhile, were bombed by San Francisco 9-3. It was their 17th straight loss, equalling the major league record for expansion teams set by the never-to-be-forgotten fledgling Mets of 1962.

Elsewhere in the National League, St. Louis stopped Atlanta 5-2, Cincinnati shelved Pittsburgh 7-3 and San Diego shaded Philadelphia 6-5. The Chicago Cubs tripped Houston 4-2 in the only afternoon action.

"Being over .500 feels good," said Met Manager Hodges after their sixth straight triumph boosted the New Yorkers into second place in the National League East with a 24-23 record, one percentage point ahead of Pittsburgh. Being two games over will feel even better."

Mauch isn't concerned with the .500 mark. He'd just like to win a game, something the Expos haven't done since May 10.

"I've felt better and I've felt worse," he said. "I feel like we're too good for this to be happening."

Six more losses and the Expos will have tied the modern major league losing record of 23 by the 1961 Phillies—managed by none other than Gene Mauch.

"I've won 500 games since the thing in Philadelphia," Mauch remembered. "I've forgotten about it. We'll win a couple of games and they'll forget about this one, too."

Ed Kranepool hit two home runs and Tom Seaver hurled eight strong innings to pace the Mets past the Dodgers. Kranepool's leadoff homer in the fifth was the first hit off loser Alan Foster. An inning later Wayne Garrett singled and scored when Andy Kosco and Willie Davis ran together under Cleon Jones' fly ball and it fell for a triple. Kranepool followed with his second homer. Kosco hit a two-run shot for the Dodgers in the eighth.

"When you take advantage of your breaks you always look good," Hodges said. "I see no reason why this club shouldn't be improving. Six in a row."

that's close to their capabilities."

San Francisco gave Montreal the Willie. Willie McCovey knocked in three runs with a double and his 17th homer and Willie Mays hit the 593rd circuit of his career.

The Giants blasted no-hit Bill Stoneman for runs in the third, wiping out a 1-0 Montreal lead, and added three more an inning later as Mays and McCovey cracked successive homers.

Tribe Wins;

Luis Tiant

'Up' Again

SEATTLE (AP)—The Cleveland Indians finally have something to cheer about as they wind up their tour on the West Coast.

And doing most of the cheering is pitcher Luis Tiant, who won his second straight game after losing his first seven decisions.

"I feel much stronger now and I think I'll even up that record pretty soon," Tiant said after the Tribe whipped the Pilots 3-1 Tuesday night.

"I'll tell you one thing, I'll never go another winter without playing ball."

Tiant was paid a $10,000 bonus by the Indians not to play winter ball in his native Cuba. He has been complaining that's what hurt his season with Cleveland.

Tuesday night's victory was the second straight on the coast for Tiant. His first came May 30 at Oakland.

Showing his form of 1968 when he was a 20-game winner, Tiant struck out eight men before he was relieved in the ninth inning with none out.

The Tribe also showed hitting punch with Lou Kittlechuck and Duke Sims hitting solo home runs and Ken Harrelson's triple to the center-field barrier.

Arts And Letters, Majestic Prince, Dike Look Good

NEW YORK (AP) — Take it from Eddie Belmonte, Majestic Prince won't sweep racing's Triple Crown by winning the Belmont Stakes at Belmont Park Saturday.

Arts and Letters won't win the Belmont, either, in the opinion of Belmonte who has come to the fore in the past year as a leading jockey.

The winner of the Belmont will be Dike, Belmonte said Tuesday after working out the Caliburn Farm colt.

"He won't be beat Saturday," Belmonte said without ifs or buts after dismounting Dike, who finished third in the Kentucky Derby to Majestic Prince and Arts and Letters after winning the Wood Memorial, had worked a fast seven furlongs in 1:23 3/5 and galloped out 1 1/2 miles in 1:53 1/5.

"He went smooth as anything you could ask and finished real strong," Belmonte enthused. He repeated "He won't be beat Saturday."

Johnny Longden, trainer of Majestic Prince, grinned when he heard of Belmonte's remark about Dike.

"Well, he's been beat before," Longden said.

Longden, who rode the unbeaten Majestic Prince in a 1:51 4/5 for 1 1/2 miles in a Sunday workout, merely galloped the big red colt around the 1 1/4 mile oval Tuesday and declared The Prince "is looking better and better every day."

Arts and Letters, who won the Metropolitan Mile Handicap at Aqueduct last Friday, also galloped the 1 1/2 miles. "He's coming up to the race very well," said trainer Elliott Burch.

As of today a field of six is probable for the Belmont. In addition to Majestic Prince, Arts and Letters and Dike, Prime Fool, Rooney's Shield and Distray are expected to be entered.

Red Sox Smash White Sox, 8-2

By MIKE RECHT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Those were the days, my friend...

When Carl Yastrzemski was getting the key hits and Jim Lonborg was pitching the clutch victories, and the Boston Red Sox were pulling the miracle of Fenway Park by winning the 1967 American League pennant.

Yes, those were the days... When Rico Petrocelli was playing like the best shortstop in the league.

Those were the days... and the Red Sox spent all of 1968 reminiscing, but no more. Now the Sox are too busy reliving them.

That's the way it was Tuesday night when Yastrzemski rapped a single, triple and homer, Petrocelli added another homer and Lonborg pitched his first complete game since last August as Boston blasted the Chicago White Sox 8-2.

The victory left the Red Sox only 3 1/2 games behind first place Baltimore in the East Division of the American League after the Orioles outlasted Oakland 3-1 on 11th inning homers by Frank Robinson and Boog Powell.

In other games, California dropped world champion Detroit 8 1/2 games back with a 4-2 victory over the Tigers, Minnesota halted the New York Yankees 4-0, Kansas City defeated Washington 5-3 and Cleveland trimmed Seattle 3-1.

Yastrzemski, who fell far below his 1967 Triple Crown performance as Boston finished a disappointing fourth last season, drilled his 13th homer with two on in the first inning against the White Sox. Reggie Smith followed with his seventh homer.

Petrocelli, who also had an off-year in 1968, remained tied for the major league lead in homers in the fifth with No. 17, one less than his most productive season. He also followed Yaz' triple in the sixth with one of his own, and Yaz later singled in another run, raising his runs batted in total to 38.

But the man of the hour had to be Lonborg, who won 22 games in 1967 before a ski accident that required knee surgery sent him skidding to 6-10 last year, and then a shoulder ailment kept him out for about a month early this year.

"We're pleased, quite pleased with Lonnie," said a smiling Manager Dick Williams after Lonborg raised his record to 5-0 with a seven-hitter.

Robinson and Powell, looking like the ballplayers they were in 1966 when Baltimore won the pennant, slammed consecutive homers to open the 11th against Lew Krausse. It was Robby's 13th, boosting his average to .328, and Powell's ninth, giving him .39 RFI.

Reggie Jackson of Oakland had sent the game into extra innings with his 17th in the seventh before the Orioles won for the 14th time in 17 games.

Aurelio Rodriguez broke a 1-1 tie in the fourth inning with a homer and Jim Hick's added a two-run shot in the sixth as California beat the Tigers behind Andy Messersmith's six-hitter for his first triumph after five losses.

Red Kelly Leaves Los Angeles Kings

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Red Kelly is happy he is no longer even though he feels the Kings of the National Hockey League even though he feels the Kings might be contenders for the NHL championship next season.

Kelly and the Kings parted company—by mutual agreement—Tuesday. It was no surprise, however, since rumors started flying six months ago that disension was rife between Kelly and General Manager Larry Regan.

Arnie Palmer Says Rumors He Will Retire Are False

MCKEESPORT, Pa. (AP) —

Arnold Palmer, reduced to the point of having to qualify for the U.S. Open Golf Tournament, scotched reports today that he is considering early retirement.

"What about the rumor that you're going to quit after you've won one more big one?" Palmer was asked after he shot rounds of 70-68-138 to lead sectional trials for next week's Open at Houston.

"I don't know where that rumor got started," Palmer replied. "I really haven't thought about quitting. I think if I won another big one I wouldn't be happy until I won still another one."

This failed to satisfy the post-match inquisitors.

"You're 39," somebody reminded the game's all-time leading money winner. "Some people say the reason you haven't been putting well is that you're concerned that you're nearing 40."

The man who personally has made more than a million dollars on the tour and helped build the circuit into a $6 million enterprise looked anything but a washed-up has-been Tuesday as he whipped over the hilly, par 72 Youghiogheny Country Club course twice with only a single bogey in 36 holes.

Arnie was inspired by members of Arnie's Army, 4,500 strong, who poured out to the Western Pennsylvania hills to cheer their man in one of the toughest tests he has faced as a pro golfer.

"Sure, I was nervous," Palmer said. "I've been playing pro golf 15 years. I get nervous every time I tee up the ball. When I don't, I will quit."

The Latrobe, Pa., millionaire, winner of the Open in 1960 and four times a runner-up since, losing in three playoffs, refused to be bitter over being forced to qualify.

PCC Golf Leagues Play Tuesday

Both the ladies and men's golf leagues were held at Pickaway Country Club Tuesday.

In the Ladies' League, Jan McKelvey carded low gross honors with a 46. Mary Carpenter had low putts, 14, for the nine holes.

The winning team was number three with 8 1/2 points. Members of the team are Ruth Athey, June Fuhrman, Miriam Adkins, Caroline Champion.

In the men's league, Bud Hritz shot a 35 to pace the field. Low net went to Gerald Ayers, whose 42 scratch was good for a 30 net.

Winning team consisted of Brent Bell, Howie Davies, Lloyd Kittle, Bill Mahalik, Sam Sberna, Chuck Baker and Joe Estenson.

The team leads the league with 80 points. In second place is team Number 2 with 75 1/2 points and Number 9 is in third with 76 points.

FOR THE PRINCE?—Two of racing's most-prized trophies, the Triple Crown trophy (top) and the August Belmont Memorial Cup (below) are on the line Saturday, June 7, for Majestic Prince, undefeated three-year-old champ, in the Belmont Stakes. Citation, in 1948, was the last to capture the Triple Crown of racing—Derby, Preakness, Belmont.

Maury Wills Quits After Long Slump

MONTREAL (AP) — Maury Wills has finally decided that even he can't steal first base. The 36-year-old shortstop, one of the great base stealers in baseball history, asked the Montreal Expos Tuesday night to place him on the voluntary retired list.

Bogged down with a .198 batting average, Wills informed the Expos of his decision to end his career after a decade in which he stole 514 bases, including a modern major league mark of 104 in 1962. He had 12 steals this season, fourth best in the National League.

Merritt Proves Strong Man As Cincy Whips Pirates, 7-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jim Merritt, who has proven himself to be one of Cincinnati's few strong men on the mound, says he has reached the peak of his strength.

That doesn't mean he's running out of gas.

"I just want to make better pitches now," the 25-year-old lefthander said after Tuesday night's 7-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

Going the distance for the second time this season, Merritt fires a six-hitter marred only by Roberto Clemente's savvy of a curve ball and an errant pitch that hit a Pittsburgh batter.

It was the 10th triumph for the Reds in their last 11 games. Merritt, 6-2, said his pitching pattern worked well—a steady barrage of curves—until Clemente slammed a three-run homer in the sixth.

"I started off with a breaking ball to make them think I was going to stay with it—but I abandoned it when Clemente hung one on it," Merritt said. He switched to a very effective fast ball.

His control waned briefly in the second when he hit Manny Sanquillen with a pitch and in the ninth when he weakened. But he solved his problems, allowing one walk and striking out six.

Pirate starter Bob Veale, 3-6, fanned 10 Cincinnati batters in the first five innings, then yielded three runs in the sixth on an RBI single by Lee May, Johnny Bench's sacrifice fly and Willie Stargell's error.

Cincinnati went ahead 5-3 in the seventh on RBI-singles by Alex Johnson and Tony Perez. Bobby Tolan and Johnson each stole a base during the push.

The Reds added two more in the eighth against Ron Kline on Johnny Bench's single, a two-base throwing error by catcher Sanguillen on Tommy Helm's bunt, a single by Darrel Chaney and an infield out.

Clemente pushed the Pirates into a 3-3 tie in the sixth with his fifth homer of the season, scoring behind Matty Alou and Stargell.

APOLLO NOT-SO-BRIEF SESSION—The Apollo 11 Moon landing astronauts listen to the Apollo 10 Moon scouting pilots relate their experiences and know-how in a day-long debriefing session at Space Center in Houston, Tex. Collins, Aldrin and Armstrong, scheduled to be the first man on the Moon, are the Apollo 11 crew members.

Navy Gives Up Hope For 73 Lost Sailors

PEARL HARBOR, Hawaii (AP) — The Navy has called off its search for 73 seamen missing from a U.S. destroyer cut in half by an Australian carrier during SEATO maneuvers.

"We have absolute confidence that we have picked up all survivors" said a Navy spokesman in announcing the end of search operations by 10 ships from three nations.

Most of those given up for lost — nearly a third of the destroyer Evans' crew — were presumed sleeping in their bunks in the forward part of the ship when it was hit by the carrier Melbourne, flagship of the Australian Navy, in pre-dawn hours about 650 miles southwest of Manila in the Philippines Tuesday. The forward section quickly sank in 5,400 feet of water.

Seas were calm and skies clear at the time of the collision and remained so during the rescue efforts.

Adm. John J. Hyland, Pacific Fleet commander, ordered a court of inquiry similar to the Navy's probe into the seizure of the intelligence ship Pueblo.

The still-floating stern section of the Evans was being towed to the Philippines by a fleet tug late Tuesday when the Pentagon began releasing names of the casualties.

Navy headquarters listed 199 Evans survivors and one dead in addition to the 73 missing. The Melbourne had no casualties.

One of the survivors was Seaman Marcus Rodriguez, 20,

Fresno, Calif., who was flown to a hospital in Cam Rahn Bay with a broken leg.

"I still can't believe it," he said. "The only thing I recall is a helicopter taking me somewhere."

Other survivors were enroute to Subic Bay, the Philippines, aboard the carrier Kearsarge. They included the skipper, Cmdr. A. S. McLemore.

A sunset memorial service was held aboard the Kearsarge before the carrier headed for Subic Bay.

The 705-foot Melbourne's bow was badly gashed above the water line and its flight deck damaged.

It set course for Singapore, where it will undergo repairs.

In Sidney, officials said the collision occurred when the destroyer was moving from a position forward of the Melbourne to one astern.

U.S. naval officials refused to speculate on the cause. The collision came as some 40 warships of six Southeast Asia Treaty Organization nations were on maneuvers.

On Feb. 10, 1964, the 25,000-ton Melbourne cut in two an Australian escort destroyer, the HMAS Voyager, with a loss of 82 lives.

Policemen Seek Lost-Lunch Cash

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Increased crime has swallowed up their lunch hours policemen contend in a $500,000 claim against the city.

"Our policemen are deprived of lunch periods because of the tremendously heavy work schedule caused by the ever-increasing crime rate," a spokesman for the Los Angeles Fire and Police Protective League said Tuesday after the claim was filed with the city clerk on behalf of the 5,500 policemen who belong to the league.

If the claim for $500,000 isn't met by the city he said a civil suit will be filed in court.

Traffic Tickets May Be Voided

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — Chatham County commissioners had told the public that a newly constructed bypass would be open to traffic June 1.

About 100 motorists took them at their word—and were given traffic tickets. Sunday and Monday for driving around barricades at each end of the road.

Commissioner P. E. Clifton later relented saying, "a promise is a promise." He said the county has stopped issuing tickets, and Police Court Judge David Elmore has taken under advisement a request that all such tickets issued Sunday and Monday be voided.

Top Golfers On Hand For Western Open

MIDLOTHIAN, Ill. (AP) — Big Jack Nicklaus seeks a record third consecutive title in one of this country's oldest golf tournaments, the Western Open, beginning Thursday with Arnold Palmer the only major name missing among the challengers.

Palmer, the game's all-time leading money winner, took the week off to (1) qualify for the U.S. Open in sectional tests at McKeesport, Pa., and (2) work on his spotty game for the national championship next week at Houston.

Palmer, forced to qualify for the first time in a decade, made it with a score of 70-68—138 Tuesday.

Nicklaus, like most of the game's top names, has made only periodic appearances on the tour since the Masters, two months ago, but almost all have gathered for this 66th Western, a tournament that dates back to 1901.

That first tournament, incidentally, was played on the site of this year's event, the 6,654-yard, par 71 Midlothian Country Club course, and this marks its first return.

Among the top contenders for Big Jack's title are South African Gary Player, a flamboyant Lee Trevino, PGA champion Julius Boros, Masters champion George Archer, leading money winner Gene Littler, steady Frank Beard and Billy Casper.

Casper, twice a U.S. Open champ, received the Harry E. Radix Trophy today just before the start of the pro-am event.

The trophy goes annually to the player with the lowest stroke average for a calendar year. Casper won it with an average of 69.8. It was the fifth time he had taken it, tying him with Ben Hogan for the top spot.

The course, made lush by weekend rains, was in excellent condition. It's a relatively flat layout, with knolls around the greens, but is made challenging by 88 traps and five water holes.

Fortas Successor Wanted In Image Of Judge Burger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two ranking senators, enthusiastic about the appointment of Warren E. Burger to be chief justice, say they want a man just like him named to the remaining Supreme Court vacancy.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., voiced the recommendation Tuesday as the Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved Burger's nomination.

Both Dirksen and Eastland said they hope when President Nixon chooses a successor to Abe Fortas, it will be a man with a background and record similar to that of Burger.

Dirksen said he hopes for a nominee in the law and order image of the chief justice-designate.

The remaining court vacancy was created by Fortas' resignation under fire, which led to Senate forecasts that any new nominee would undergo searching examination before confirmation.

In Burger's case, that meant one hour and 45 minutes before the Judiciary Committee, followed by immediate approval. "I think it was as searching as it had to be," said Dirksen, senior Republican on the committee.

He said Burger's 13-year record as a federal appeals court judge supplied all the record needed. "You don't have to probe very deeply," he said. Eastland agreed.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, who had said extensive investigation of appointees was likely after the Fortas affair, found the committee hearing adequate. He said advance investigation of nominees is the important thing.

There was a standard, advance check by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Under committee procedures, only Eastland saw the report on that inquiry.

The Judiciary Committee will advise the Senate formally Thursday that it has approved Burger's appointment, and the nomination may be confirmed by the Senate next Monday.

Expect Troop Cut Statement From Midway

NEW YORK (AP) — Preparations are under way for President Nixon and Nguyen Van Thieu, the South Vietnamese President, to announce the first unilateral reduction of American forces in Vietnam, the New York Times says.

U.S. officials say the announcement is likely but will not be made definite until the leaders meet on Midway Sunday, the Times said today in a story from Washington by Hedrick Smith.

The Times gave this information: Informants said the Midway setting was picked for the announcement because it would underscore U.S.-South Vietnamese solidarity on the troop issue.

The Nixon administration may pull out about 50,000 troops this year, starting Sept. 1. The announcement may be linked to a warning that the rate of withdrawal would be adversely affected by enemy attacks.

President Nixon's May 14 speech on Vietnam was checked out line by line with President Thieu, who approved the speech after suggesting several changes in language.

Observers said one possible area for troop withdrawal would be the Mekong Delta, south of Saigon, where the U.S. Ninth Cavalry Division has been operating. Part of another combat division would also be pulled out, they said.

Circleville

A third ordinance establishing fire lanes for the movement of emergency equipment to fires in the downtown area was passed. The ordinance also provided that no person may interfere with firemen and the moving of fire fighting equipment and that a post, shrub or tree may not be placed within five feet of a fire hydrant.

Columbus Police Probe 2 Years Old

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Columbus citizens first learned last July that some city officials and policemen were under investigation by the Justice Department and Internal Revenue Service with possible links to gambling payoffs.

It became public soon after three federal agents, two of them I R S representatives, were arrested by police outside a South Side night club. The agents were accused of intoxication and using abusive language. The agents petitioned to have the charges against them transferred from Municipal Court to U.S. District Court, and filed affidavits to support their request.

One affidavit said: "Some of the information as to the corruption of public officials came to light during the investigation of numbers gambling activities in the Columbus area in February and March, 1967," after the IRS learned a numbers operator had met with the chief and assistant chief of the vice squad to set up a police raid March 10, 1967. The combined police and federal raid, the affidavits said, "as predicted, (had) no results." A subsequent secret federal raid resulted in the arrest and later conviction of five persons.

Then a formal, combined probe was ordered by the Criminal Division of the Justice Department in April, 1968 and was termed "the Columbus Project," later events disclosed.

Justice Department attorneys began taking information before a federal grand jury last July, and also notified five police and city officials they were under investigation for criminal income tax evasion in connection with possible gambling payoffs.

These officials included Mayor M. E. Sensenbrenner, Safety Director Fred Simon, Police Maj. Herman Beck and Police Capt. Jerry Ryan and Robert Taylor.

Last February, the federal agents who had been arrested by police in what they called "harassment" because of their investigation, were acquitted in two trials.

Meanwhile periodic grand jury sessions directed by attorneys of the Justice Department's Organized Crime and Racketeering Section continued.

Man Escapes From Deputy

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A 25-year-old handcuffed prisoner escaped from the Criminal Court annex in downtown Cleveland Tuesday with the aid of a female accomplice as he was being led to a basement security cell by a sheriff's deputy.

Sheriff Ralph E. Kreiger said the escapee, Lloyd J. Milliner of Cleveland, had pleaded guilty to a grand larceny charge and had been awaiting a pre-sentencing report while free on $1,500 bond.

After being sentenced to 1 to 7 years in the Ohio Penitentiary by Common Pleas Court Judge Eugene J. Sawicki, Milliner made his successful escape bid from the annex, the Watson Building, at 1279 W. 3rd St.

Kreiger said Milliner was being taken down a stairway by a deputy when a girl jumped between the two men. Milliner and the girl ran from the building into a parking lot with two deputies in pursuit.

Kreiger said neither deputy fired at the fleeing pair for fear of hitting passersby. Milliner and the girl disappeared down an alley.

Mayor Sensenbrenner and Safety Director Simon have repeatedly denied any wrongdoing, or that there is any grounds for investigation of their income tax returns.

Python Hatching Covey Of Eggs

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A blessed event is occurring at the Columbus Zoo.

An 11-foot Indian Rock Python is in the process of hatching a covey of eggs.

The mother python laid about 12 eggs April 4, according to curator Louis Pistoria, and has been generating hatching warmth.

Pistoria said the snake, known only to be more than seven years old, was mated with a Burmese python. He described the eggs as having a leathery pliable shell somewhat resembling a baked potato.

The young snakes which have hatched are about 18 inches long and less than an inch in diameter, Pistoria said.

Fortas Successor Wanted In Image Of Judge Burger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two ranking senators, enthusiastic about the appointment of Warren E. Burger to be chief justice, say they want a man just like him named to the remaining Supreme Court vacancy.

Chairman James O. Eastland, D-Miss., and Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., voiced the recommendation Tuesday as the Senate Judiciary Committee unanimously approved Burger's nomination.

Both Dirksen and Eastland said they hope when President Nixon chooses a successor to Abe Fortas, it will be a man with a background and record similar to that of Burger.

Dirksen said he hopes for a nominee in the law and order image of the chief justice-designate.

The remaining court vacancy was created by Fortas' resignation under fire, which led to Senate forecasts that any new nominee would undergo searching examination before confirmation.

In Burger's case, that meant one hour and 45 minutes before the Judiciary Committee, followed by immediate approval.

"I think it was as searching as it had to be," said Dirksen, senior Republican on the committee.

He said Burger's 13-year record as a federal appeals court judge supplied all the record needed. "You don't have to probe very deeply," he said, Eastland agreed.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, who had said extensive investigation of appointees was likely after the Fortas affair, found the committee hearing adequate. He said advance investigation of nominees is the "important thing."

There was a standard, advance check by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Under committee procedures, only Eastland saw the report on that inquiry.

The Judiciary Committee will advise the Senate formally Thursday that it has approved Burger's appointment, and the nomination may be confirmed by the Senate next Monday.

Expect Troop Cut Statement From Midway

NEW YORK (AP) — Preparations are under way for President Nixon and Nguyen Van Thieu, the South Vietnamese President, to announce the first unilateral reduction of American forces in Vietnam, the New York Times says.

U.S. officials say the announcement is likely but will not be made definite until the leaders meet on Midway Sunday, the Times said today in a story from Washington by Hedrick Smith.

The Times gave this information: Informants said the Midway setting was picked for the announcement because it would underscore U.S.-South Vietnamese solidarity on the troop issue.

The Nixon administration may pull out about 50,000 troops this year, starting Sept. 1. The announcement may be linked to a warning that the rate of withdrawal would be adversely affected by enemy attacks.

President Nixon's May 14 speech on Vietnam was checked out line by line with President Thieu, who approved the speech after suggesting several changes in language.

Observers said one possible area for troop withdrawal would be the Mekong Delta, south of Saigon, where the U.S. Ninth Cavalry Division has been operating. Part of another combat division would also be pulled out, they said.

—Continued American casualties will increasingly disillusion the U.S. public.

—Differences are increasing between the U.S. government and the Saigon administration, and in the political field the United States is becoming increasingly confused and isolated.

—Having been forced by last year's Tet offensive into negotiations, America is seeking a political solution to a problem that it once thought could be settled by arms, and this has greatly shaken its reliance in the force of weapons.

—The "honeymoon period" President Nixon's political opponents accorded him will soon end, and Nixon will be compelled to take a new course of action which, in all likelihood, will decide the outcome of the war.

—By first Americanizing the war and now attempting to de-Americanize it, the United States has been driven into a dilemma: how to withdraw its troops without jeopardizing the confidence of its allies.

One high-level document saw these three alternative possibilities for Vietnam's future:

The United States will force the South Vietnamese to end the war and maintain only a limited army; it will protract the war, hoping to strengthen the South Vietnamese in order to negotiate a solution by superior force; it will save the South Vietnamese from complete defeat by resuming the bombing of North Vietnam and building up its force levels.

"However, the Americans visibly show little capacity for facing an unlimited war against us," the document added. "But we must increase our vigilance nevertheless for such an occurrence."
